Port Renfrew Man Badly Hurt In Car Crash

Colwood Corner Accident Scene

A Port Renfrew man was seriously injured early this morning when his car crashed a pole at Colwood corner.

Henry A. Wilt was reported in only "fair" condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital, suffering from multiple injuries after his car crashed in front of the new branch of the Bank of Commerce at Colwood Corner at 4:30 a.m., R.C.M.P. reported.

The injured man was pinned behind the driver's wheel and sections of the car had to be ripped away before police were able to get him out of the vehicle.

There were no passengers in the car.

Wilt apparently was travelling toward Victoria at the time of the accident.

Investigating officers were unable to say how the crash occurred.

U.K. Rockets In Australia

ADELAIDE, Australia, Sept. 22 (Reuters)—A load of top secret rockets arrived here from Britain today as scientists hurried last minute preparations for Britain's first atomic weapon test, expected sometime this week.

Rockets weighing five tons were unloaded from the British freighter Clan Chattan.

An official remark that the cargo was "TITS"—top top secret.

The tests are expected to start at the Montebello Islands off northwest Australia within a week.

STRICT SECURITY

Dr. W. G. Penney, British scientific director of the tests, is believed to be the leader of a mysterious party of six which passed swiftly through the little west Australian port of Onslow Sunday.

So strict was the security for their arrival at Onslow in an air force transport plane that the civilian refuelling party at the airfield was not warned until the plane touched down.

Tanks Smash Enemy Back

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 22 (UP)—United Nations troops supported by tanks smashed back today at North Korean Communists who overwhelmed them and pushed them off a towering peak on the eastern front.

Second division troops, who captured "Old Baldy" in the west Sunday, worked through the night to strengthen their positions, while Red Chinese artillery and mortars took a rest.

Edwin Boyd Changes Plea To Guilty

Surprise Move at Today's Hearing

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (BUP)—Edwin Alonzo Boyd pleaded guilty to all the charges against him today when he went on trial in Toronto on counts ranging from armed bank robbery to breaking jail.

Boyd pleaded innocent when he was arraigned on the four counts Thursday. But his counsel, Frank McMahon, told Judge Robert Forsyth when the trial opened this morning that the accused bank robber wished to change his plea.

Boyd then rose in the dock and asked how he pleaded said "guilty" in firm tones to all four charges.

The charges were of breaking out of Don Jail on November 4, 1951; of escaping from the jail the same date; stealing a car on February 28, 1952, and armed robbery at a Bank of Montreal branch in Toronto on March 4, 1952. The robbery netted about $25,000.

Joseph Jackson and Allister Gibson, also charged with the bank robbery, did not change their pleas of innocent. Nor did Norman Boyd, charged with harboring his brother, Edwin, and receiving stolen money.

After Boyd changed his plea the court proceeded with picking a jury to try the other three.

Fishermen Ask Legislators Meet at Once

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22 (CP)—Coastal fishermen who have been on strike two weeks demanded today an immediate session of the British Columbia legislature to deal with picketing laws.

The demand was made following a week-end meeting at which a resolution was endorsed calling on the provincial government "to pass a law which would prohibit the issuance of an injunction against peaceful picketing by a court in any dispute between employers and organized trade unions."

Homer Stevens, secretary-treasurer of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (A.F.L.), complained of an injunction issued last week by Mr. Justice V. Cline. It prohibited picketing of a boat operated by two Japanese-Canadian fishermen.

"The companies are trying to sidetrack us into court," Stevens told 500 fishermen at the meeting. "We will fight them, but we will not forget the main issue—wages."

"We were not granted a hearing and the injunction was issued on the affidavits of the other party."

The two Japanese-Canadian fishermen have claimed unstated damages and a court order dissolving the union. They reported union pickets forced them to dump 145 salmon when they had permits to fish.

MT. DOUGLAS COUGAR HUNTED

An early morning hunt for a cougar reported on Cedar Hill Road, near Mount Douglas Cross Road was called off today because of the difficulty for hounds to pick up a scent.

"It is too dry," said Game Warden Joe Jones, called into the hunt by Saanich police. "I shot a cougar in the same place seven or eight years ago, so this could quite possibly be another."

Saanich police received the report at 5:55 a.m. and after an unsuccessful investigation called the game warden, who arrived at 8:15 a.m.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

Here is Ald. Pinfold's statement:

"The present tempest in City Council was brought into the open last Thursday at a meeting of the finance committee of which I am chairman."

"We were discussing a question which comes up naturally many times during the year, that of expediting and facilitating the work of the city manager."

"The mayor as the elected head of the city was asked to attend and contribute his views."

UPPER BURNSIDE LOCATION

Royal Portage Parks Ask Saanich Site Be Rezoned

Royal Portage Parks Ltd., the company thwarted in its attempt to build a $12,000,000 recreation area on Portage Inlet, is now seeking permission to construct a $3,500,000 race track and exhibition buildings at the top end of Burnside Road in Saanich.

It was learned today the firm is planning to apply to Saanich Council for rezoning of 300 acres in the general vicinity of the intersection of Burnside and Prospect Lake Roads.

Queried on the issue today, Reeve Joseph W. Casey said he expected the rezoning application to be presented either to tonight's council meeting or next Monday.

Company officials, meanwhile, are silent on the matter, but it is understood they are meeting this afternoon to discuss the application for rezoning.

The property sought by Royal Portage Parks Ltd., includes the old Raper farm on Burnside Road, now believed to be owned by an East Indian.

Reeve Casey said the application, when made, will most likely be referred to the Saanich Town Planning Commission for study and recommendation.

The reeve said the first thing he, himself, will want to know is:

"Who is behind the proposal?"

This is the same point which harmed the proposal for a recreation area in the Portage Inlet area. It is believed officials will soon declare the names of their financial backers.

The company believes the Burnside Road site for the race track and exhibition buildings will create little objection because it is sparsely populated. Several properties are involved.

"I, and most of the aldermen, have tried on several occasions to bring harmony into the two offices of the chief executive and the city manager. I have felt that co-operation here would be a great help to the city and that the city business would move forward more rapidly and efficiently."

"Mr. Wyatt, the city manager, came here two years ago with a good background and a wealth of experience in municipal government, but a stranger to this city."

"The former mayor and whole council co-operated with him and gave him every assistance. He built up a great respect among us all and also with the heads of the various city departments and the city employees."

"Good progress was being made until this year."

"RIGHT MAN"

"I believe Mr. Wyatt is the right incumbent for the office. He can do a great job for the city. He has already saved this city thousands of dollars—more than earning his salary—but the groundwork he has laboriously prepared during his 18 months of office would be of increasing benefit to the city provided his work is unhampered and has the co-operation of the mayor and council."

"The citizens of Victoria voted overwhelmingly for a city manager. I believe in the council and manager form of government and I will continue to support and assist the manager all I can in his efforts to bring efficiency to the City Hall."

"I therefore stand behind Ald. Skillings or any other alderman who supports, co-operates and assists in making the work of the city manager more progressive and efficient."

$1,500 Down Payment On 400-Unit Scheme

Close to 550 new houses in two projects totaling more than $5,000,000 will be built in Victoria, it was learned today.

The houses will be erected in the Burnside-Tillicum area. Both projects are private ventures.

One—about 138 houses to cost a total of more than $1,250,000—is now well underway.

The second project has an objective of 400 units at a total of more than $4,000,000. Construction will start immediately in the Burnside-Tillicum-Carey-Interurban Road area.

About 156 acres are involved in this project, which will be handled by James Lambie and Gordon Rolston, local contractors, it is learned.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation have approved the loans for the first four of the 400 houses. Plans call for completion of six before Christmas.

These will be opened to public inspection and the remainder of the houses will be built as sold, it is understood.

The houses are being planned to sell for about $10,000 on a $1,500 down basis and payments of approximately $45 a month for 30 years.

A shopping centre is also in the plans it is believed. A sewerage system will be installed.

The second project in the Burnside-Tillicum area involves 138 lots, over 100 of which have been sold by Jack Henson Jr., Victoria contractor.

He could not say how many of the houses are completed, but stated they were being built by a number of private contractors.

Prices will range from $7,000 to $10,000, he said.

Sewerage will also be installed.

Call The Times For Election Results in N.B.

FREDERICTON, Sept. 22 (CP)—The battle of words in the New Brunswick election campaign gave way today to the battle of ballots.

Approximately 282,800 residents were eligible to vote between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. A.D.T. (5 a.m. and 3 p.m. P.D.T.).

On their decision depended the fate of Premier John B. McNair's Liberal government and the hopes of Progressive Conservatives led by H. J. Flemming.

First returns from the New Brunswick election are expected to be known in Victoria soon after 4 p.m. Readers are invited to phone the Times, B 3131, for results.

The last election, held in 1948, ended in a sweeping Liberal victory. The party won 47 of the 52 seats, the other five going to Progressive Conservatives—three in Kings County and two in Carleton.

The standing at dissolution, July 16: Liberals 46; Progressive Conservatives five; vacant one (Kent).

The 123 candidates in the field comprise 52 Liberals, 52 Progressive Conservatives, 12 C.C.F. representatives and seven Independent Liberals.

As all 17 constituencies in the province are multiple-seat ridings, electing from two to five members each, the number of voters cannot be computed. In 1948 Liberal candidates polled 331,670 votes, or 57.7 per cent of the total, and Progressive Conservatives polled 179,693 for a 31.3 per centage.

Earlier, the 36,800-ton Eagle, Britain's biggest and newest jet aircraft carrier, signalled she had collided during the night with a Dutch destroyer in the Jutland area.

The signal, received at Pitreavie, Scotland, headquarters of the N.A.T.O. exercise, indicated neither ship suffered casualties nor major damage.

The destroyer Vangalen was reported proceeding under her own steam to the Dutch port of Den Helder.

The collision occurred in heavy seas while the 1,760-ton destroyer was taking on fuel from the carrier. The report said the Eagle will remain in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization manoeuvres.

The accident occurred just before winds of almost gale force delayed the landing of the marines on a north Jutland beach in an effort to block a mythical invasion of Denmark.

Instead, the marines' convoy of 50 ships headed around the northern tip of Jutland to make a landing on an alternative beach. The Polish ship was apparently aware of the change in plans. Plans call for the leathernecks to march on shore after landing and re-embark later without mock combat.

Most of the 160 warships involved in exercise "Mainbrace" converged in the Jutland area for the landing.

British ships with the N.A.T.O. fleet suffered their first fatality in the exercise Sunday when a two-seater plane from the carrier Illustrious crashed into the sea. The pilot was lost.

Fire Hazard May Close B.C. Forests

30 Fires Raging, Half on Island

For the second time within two months, British Columbia's timber-rich forests may be closed because of the fire hazard.

Thirty fires today swept across hundreds of acres of timberlands on Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Many camps have closed while others are working a short shift, holding logging operations to early morning hours.

Some districts have been without rain for days with unprecedented high temperatures. No rain was in sight.

Worst fire on Vancouver Island is at Copper Canyon operations of MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd., 24 miles north of Chemainus, where upwards of 350 men, 14 bulldozers and 24 pumps are fighting fire along a five-mile front.

About 1,000 acres have been burned over—300 acres of slash, 200 of felled and bucked timber, and 500 of standing timber—and losses included 8,000,000 feet of felled and bucked logs, three cold decks, a railway bridge and a skidder.

The fire ran wild when a slash burn went out of control over the week-end.

SECOND MENACE

A second fire is raging out of control over 350 acres at the headwaters of Lens Creek near Cowichan Lake, where 100 Forest Service men, two bulldozers, and two pumps are endeavoring to stop its spread.

Langford Ranger district, at Victoria's back door, had 14 new fires over the week-end but suppression crews managed to extinguish all but a 10-acre blaze at Metchosin, which is expected to be brought under control by tonight.

"Conditions now are almost as bad as at the height of the summer danger period," an official said. "Hunters especially should be extremely careful in the woods."

In the Vancouver Forest District, which includes Vancouver Island, there are 23 new fires, 30 in all, and a total of 483 company and Forest Service firefighters at work.

In the whole of the province there are 63 fires, and 541 men employed.

Vancouver Has 19th Traffic Death of Year

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22 (CP)—Robert Nudel died in hospital early today, Vancouver's 19th traffic fatality of the year.

He and his wife were struck by a car while crossing an intersection. He was thrown 80 feet. Mrs. Nudel is in "poor" condition in hospital.

BRITISH, DUTCH WARSHIPS COLLIDE

Communist Ship Ordered Away From Watching Sea Exercises

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 22 (Reuters)—A Polish cargo ship anchored today almost under the noses of 1,500 United States marines preparing to land on the Danish coast in the last major operation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's exercise "Mainbrace."

The 5,000-ton Korporator appeared suddenly before dawn off North Jutland and anchored within the three-mile limit. A Danish coastal patrol vessel immediately ordered the Communist ship to pull up anchor and leave the scene.

The Polish vessel obeyed but not before persons aboard witnessed the elaborate landing preparations of the 50-ship Allied convoy. The Canadian carrier

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

When you reach the point where a high school kid gives you his seat in the bus, you've lost contact with his generation. You may have some illusions over your own youthfulness. You may still wink at the face you see when you're shaving and think that age is treating you lightly. But that isn't the way the high school kid sees you. Through his eyes, you're old, and you're feeble, you're slow.

I've been given seats in the bus—not often, but enough to jar me. Any gratitude I might have felt is smothered in resentment that I should be considered aged and infirm by the blue-jeans crowd. They're getting away from me.

And I don't find much consolation in the belief that my years have given me superior knowledge. Once in a while I try to show my erudition to the high school crowd, or one representative of it. That's a mistake. Guys equipped with my erudition ought to keep it in a jewel box, carefully wrapped in velvet and hidden at the back of the bottom drawer. In my case scarcity makes erudition precious.

Occasionally though a person will read a book that provides erudition in small, palatable doses. He's encouraged to show it off. Maybe he's read David Rhys Williams' "World Religions and the Hope for Peace." Maybe he thinks it will make a good show if he tosses out the odd bit of information he's gleaned from it—a theory of one of the other religions that used to be known only to the student.

So he experiments with a high school kid, figuring he'll try it out on the young fry. If it takes, he'll work it into conversation with more mature minds.

A Soft Pitch

Right there he can be offering a soft pitch to a home-run hitter. The high school kid today probably knows more about the subject than he does himself. The high school kid took it in social studies, or something, and is prepared to discuss and argue the point. Not all high school kids, of course. Some will just ask, "Huh? You talking to me?"

But the courses nowadays do cultivate a surprising number of fields that were strictly pasture a generation ago. They don't necessarily teach a youngster to spell, read, write or figure any better. On the other hand they offer a store of information and invite thought which is educational and which adults come to—if they come at all—with the idea they are moving into the higher realms of erudition.

You think of that when you're asked your opinion on secondary education today. It's convenient enough to say that too many frills have been added. What, you may ask, has a knowledge of religions other than Christianity got to do with high school work? Why don't the kids find out more about Christianity and wait until they reach a philosophical age to go into the other beliefs that have influenced mankind?

From there you can point out that courses including such material cost money. Get back to fundamentals, you can urge. Make the youngsters meet higher standards in the regular subjects. Then they'll be more competent in the basic ingredients of education. Not all of them will be adapted to that kind of schooling, but if you cut out the frills, those who aren't will not close the high schools. Smaller enrollments will reduce costs. Taxes will go down.

Solving the Mass Education Problem

It's as simple as that, and one of the main problems of mass education is solved merely by eliminating mass education.

Then you can go a step farther. You can point to the protracted nature of secondary education today. The introduction of junior high schools has juggled the school life of a present day student around a bit, but it still works out at one more year before he reaches junior matriculation than he did in a previous generation.

Some of the experts will tell you that this extra year is necessary to permit a student to take advantage of the enriched curriculum. Maybe that's right. But the extra year can cost a family another $1,000 in the expense of keeping a youngster at school and losing his or her potential earnings for that period.

Still, you want to be fair to the experts. You'll admit they have a point, and you want to be fair to the youngsters at high school, too. So you ask a student—a member of the generation with which you've lost contact—if he thinks he benefited by spreading tuition over the extra year. Chances are he'll tell you he doesn't. He may add that if he'd had to do his work in a shorter time, he'd have learned how to concentrate better.

Where do you go from there in a discussion of the protracted school life?

THE BARD WAS ONLY 'FRONT MAN'

Marlowe 'Wasn't Murdered—He Was 'Shakespeare'

LONDON, Sept. 22 (UP)—New York Drama Critic Calvin Hoffman said today that Christopher Marlowe, supposed to have been murdered in 1593, wasn't.

Instead, he said, he has now almost proved that Marlowe—"father of English tragedy"—stayed in hiding from the law and wrote Shakespeare's plays.

Shakespeare? "A front man picking up a fast buck," Hoffman said. He holds Shakespeare was paid to pose as the playwright.

Hoffman has long held the theory that Marlowe was Shakespeare, insofar as "Shakespearean" plays are concerned. He now says he has proof that Marlowe was not murdered in a London tavern brawl but hid out at the Scadbury Park Hall estate of Sir Thomas Walsingham to avoid arrest as an atheist.

Hoffman after searching the grounds of the estate with a land mine detector, hoping to trace a buried iron chest which he believes may contain the original manuscripts of the Shakespearean plays, went to France. He had heard that Marlowe after hiding out went secretly

C.C.L. Opens Convention

Rails, Steel Fight in Prospect; Mosher Blocks Opposition Forces

By HAROLD MORRISON

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP)—Union antagonism against A. R. Mosher's re-election as Canadian Congress of Labor president receded today, following a week-end tactical play for power in which Mosher neatly blocked opposition forces.

But turbulence still threatened the top layer of the 350,000-member labor body, whose annual convention got under way today with more than 900 delegates attending.

Demands on the federal government for low-cost housing, national health insurance and price controls to protect wage boosts obtained likely will play big parts in week-long deliberations.

The threat to congress unity—badly dented by internal strife just a year ago—lies in a no-holds-barred fight for the dual position of secretary-treasurer and organization director.

Lined up for the full-time job are Donald MacDonald, 43-year-old current holder of the appointment, and William Mahoney, 35-year-old assistant to C. H. Millard, Canadian director of the United Steelworkers of America. One powerful union leader requested MacDonald to bow out gracefully or lose the chief's friendship, but MacDonald declared he will "fight to the last ditch" for the job he got a year ago.

Backing Mahoney, who earned a big union name by knocking out Communist elements in British Columbia unions several years ago, are the big three unions—steel, auto and packing house workers.

Behind MacDonald are his own union, the United Mine Workers of America, elements of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, and a scattering of C.C.L.-chartered unions.

Union men close to MacDonald say he has a 50-50 chance of com-

HARRY CHAPPELL ... won't oppose Mosher

Chappell Won't Oppose Old Friend

But Chappell disclosed as he arrived in Toronto with Mosher, that he has no intention of opposing his old and trusted friend.

"I've just taken over the C.B.R.E. and I've got a lot of heavy work ahead of me," he said in an interview. "I'll be too busy to run for the C.C.L. presidency."

Union men favor a C.B.R.E. man for the presidency, to maintain unity and power balances within the C.C.L. with Chappell definitely out, that left only Mosher. They indicated they would support him, though reluctantly.

Millard, who quit the vice-presidency over last year's internal battle, is gunning a return to that job this year. Probably accompanying him in the other three vice-president post and up for re-election are George Burt of Windsor, Ont., chief of the United Automobile Workers of

Madame Chiang Shows Slight Improvement

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22 (UP)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of National China's leader, is reported showing some improvement at Franklin Hospital in San Francisco. She is undergoing treatment for a skin disorder.

However, K. W. Yu, who is handling Madame Chiang's affairs in San Francisco, says her progress is very slow.

Visitors still are not allowed to see Madame Chiang. She entered the hospital five weeks ago and Yu says it is not known how much longer she will undergo treatment.

The Linnemanstons have four other children.

Maritime Ice Loop Struck Death Blow

HALIFAX, Sept. 22 (BUP)

Alexander Cup hockey in the Maritimes received a possible death blow today when the Sydney Millionaires withdrew from the Maritime Major League.

Only three of the six teams in the league last year now plan to remain in the loop, and its future was uncertain.

The Sydney move was announced by Arthur Lipton, president of the club. Judge J. Elliott of Halifax, league president, at once called a meeting for Saturday in New Glasgow to consider the situation.

The league now consists of the Halifax Saint Marys, the Charlottetown Islanders and the Glace Bay Miners. The Saint John Beavers and the Moncton Hawks planned to revert to Allan Cup hockey for the coming season.

The Sydney decision came after it failed to get the league to change to Allan Cup status with a salary limit of $125 weekly, Lipton said.

LIVED THROUGH 72 HOURS OF HELLFIRE

U.S. Troops Played Dead Behind Bodies of Buddies to Fool Reds

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 22 (AP)—Five American soldiers—wounded, hungry and without a drop of water—played dead and lived through 72 hours of hellfire on the rugged Korean hill known as Old Baldy.

When their buddies from the U.S. Second Division retook the height Sunday after savage fighting with Chinese Reds, the five stopped playing dead and crawled or were carried from their battered bunker.

They had huddled in the dilapidated log and earth cave under the earth-shaking pounding of Allied and Communist big guns.

Twelve men had crawled into the bunker Thursday evening when an assault force of Chinese swarmed over their positions. Seven died in the bunker or may have escaped.

The account of their ordeal was given by Cpl. Ed Berlin, front-line reporter for the Pacific Stars and Stripes, who interviewed the men on the scene.

Time and again during the first night, Berlin said, Chinese soldiers threw grenades into the small enclosure. Just as often, a Red soldier would peer in and open up with a spray of machine-gun bullets. The trapped men fired back at each intruder.

Then the men in the bunker lay behind the bodies of their dead fellows and kept still, hoping the Reds would think them dead, too.

They hoped, too, that their buddies would soon retake the hill and get them out.

Both prayers were answered. The Chinese finally decided that no one could still be alive inside the bunker that had been literally covered with flying bullets. And, on Sunday night, troops of the "Indianhead" division found them.

The only food they touched during the 72 hours was a can of grapefruit juice and a couple of oranges. The men cared for their wounds as best they could. A private gave a lieutenant in the bunker a blood transfusion from a bottle.

Describing the vigil, a 22-year-old private said: "All of us were bloody and I think that's what saved us. We were afraid to fire because we might let them know we were alive. So we just got as low as we could behind the other bodies and sweated it out. We dozed once in a while, but we couldn't sleep. No one lost his head. All of us were cool because we just knew the Second Div would retake Baldy."

HERE THERE and EVERYWHERE

HISTORIC—In Rivera, Calif., an 11-year-old girl is making medical history today because she is learning to read.

Linda Brown, blind since birth, slowly is regaining her sight through use of a new drug. Doctors say a cure of her kind of blindness—corneal ulcers—is the first of its kind on record.

One year ago Linda was studying braille. Today she is trying to catch up on a new world of light and color which has been closed to her.

Mrs. Ruth Brown, the girl's mother, said she had taken Linda to about 25 doctors, all of whom said she was doomed to blindness. Then she heard of the work by a Phoenix, Ariz., ophthalmologist. "It was sort of a last chance," said Mrs. Brown.

The "last chance" was Dr. A. E. Cruikshank, who pioneered use of a refined sulphur drug in treating corneal ulcers.

Linda began taking the sulphur treatments in July 1951. When treatments began she was totally blind in the right eye and had only slight vision in the left.

Today, Dr. Cruikshank says vision in the left eye has improved by four times. It is good enough to enable Linda to read.

Now the girl wears glasses and continues to take the treatments.

STOLEN—Vancouver police today were in search of "art" thieves who escaped with some rare paintings valued at $30,000 from the home of Polish immigrant Adolphe Ingre.

The art collector-engineer who came here last April with a $75,000 collection told police 20 of his valuable canvases—some worth $4,000 each—were stolen from a storeroom.

The collection, which included works of the old masters Vlamink, Urillo, Kisting, Demain, Kregme and Lowery, had been on exhibit for two months at the Vancouver Art Gallery. It was returned to the Ingre storeroom a few days ago.

The thieves took some of the pictures complete with frames. Others were removed from their frames.

LOST—Missing: One red and yellow swimming pool.

G. Loop reported to Vancouver police today thieves had carried off his plastic pool during the week-end.

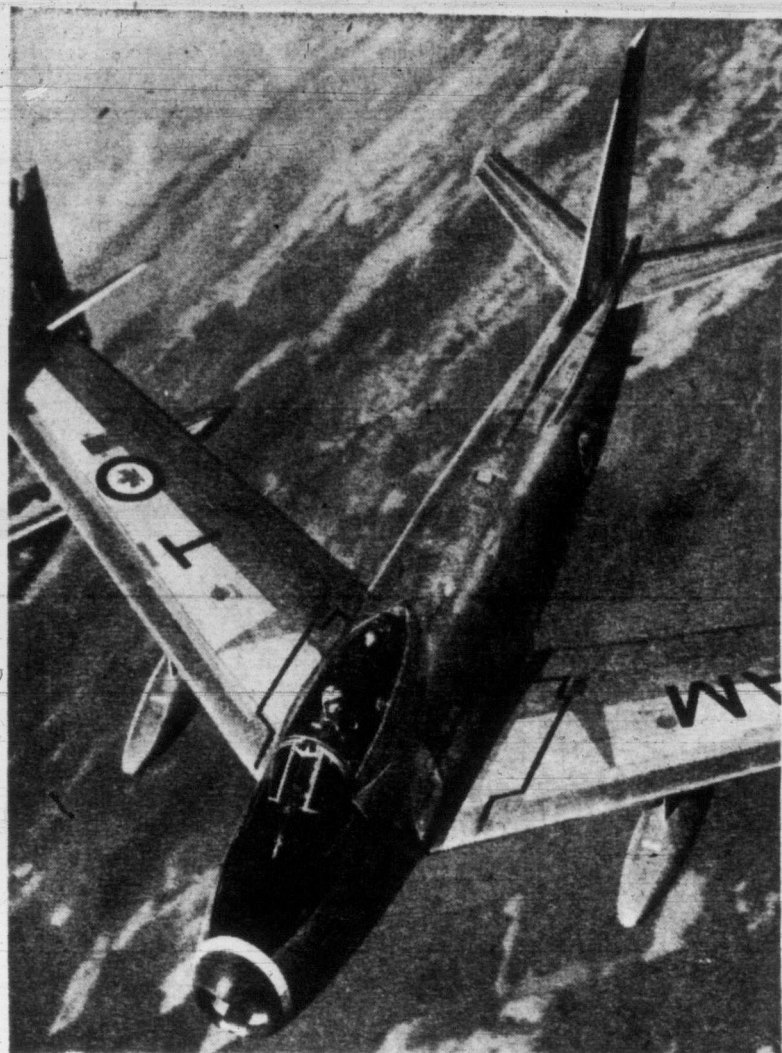

Seven feet square, the pool held 80 gallons of water.

POWER—In Palo Alto, Calif., a vacuum tube which can deliver momentarily as much electrical energy as the city of San Francisco uses has been built by Stanford University scientists to power a new atom smasher.

About the size of a fire hydrant, this instrument does its work by alternately hoarding and releasing swarms of electrons.

For 59 millionths of a second it bunches and aligns these electrons so that they can be released to produce one terrific electrical jolt in the next millionth of a second. It does this 60 times a second.

Canadians Fly Back to Scene of Past Triumphs

Across Canada, and throughout the world where British and Commonwealth feats of arms are remembered, tribute was paid Sunday to the heroes of the Battle of Britain. Sabre jet fighters flew in salute in Ottawa. Within a week, three squadrons of these planes will fly to

R.C.A.F. Salutes Combat Comrades Who Smashed Luftwaffe Offensive

BY BRITISH UNITED PRESS

"... never has so much been owed by so many to so few."

The words are those of Winston Churchill and they echoed across the nation Sunday as the Royal Canadian Air Force saluted fliers who fell in the Battle of Britain.

It was on Sunday, Sept. 15, 1940, that Goering's Luftwaffe suffered its greatest losses from the guns of propeller-driven Spitfires and Hurricanes... the turning point in Britain's "darkest hour."

Exactly 185 German planes were destroyed on that single day.

A water-borne invasion of the British Isles was behind the Nazi bid for mastery of the sky. The plan was cancelled through the bravery and skill of the "few."

ME-109's, Junkers 88's, Stukas planes almost forgotten in this jet age—were knocked down like trophies by Royal Air Force and Commonwealth fighter pilots aided by a vital new warning wonder—radar.

The 50 squadrons of Hurricanes and Spitfires included two Canadian units—No. 242 (Canadian) Squadron of the R.A.F. and No. 1 (fighter) Squadron of the R.C.A.F.

Across Canada Sunday, the "few" were remembered by the "many."

At Ottawa, more than 1,400 men and women of the R.C.A.F. paraded behind three bands and 16 Sabre jets of 416 Fighter Squadron flew overhead in salute.

The parade filed past Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, who took the salute in front of National Defense Headquarters.

Gangsters Die In Gun Battle

Noted Pennsylvania Gang Caught In New York; Officer Killed

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (UP)—Police said today a jealous suitor led them to a Harlem apartment house where the notorious Nolen brothers of Kentucky and a brave detective were killed in one of the most fierce close-range gun battles in New York police annals.

An explosion of gunfire in a tiny bedroom early Sunday ended the 10-day reign of terror spread by three fugitives from the Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison.

Joseph Nolen, 24, one of the F.B.I.'s most wanted criminals, and his brother, Ballard, 21, were killed. Detective Philip Lamonia, 45, who waded into a hail of bullets fired by the Nolens before they fell, was fatally wounded.

Elmer Schuer, 21, the third fugitive, was captured unharmed. A force of 63 policemen descended on the apartment house after a young Negro reported he had been beaten up and thrown out by three white men when he went to see his girl friend, Arline Ball, 32.

The seven-story apartment hotel was surrounded by police and 12 detectives broke into the four-room apartment on the top floor. The Ball woman and Bessie Smith, 39, both Negroes, were found hiding in the bathroom. The door to the bedroom was closed and patrolman Vincent Grant, 33, a submachine gun specialist, called out, "This is the police. Throw your guns out and come out with your hands up!"

"Have you got a search warrant?" a voice behind the door taunted. Grant grabbed a chair for a shield and pushed the door open with the muzzle of his machine gun. He and Lamonia were the first in the room.

"Joe Nolen was standing on the bed, naked except for his socks," Grant said. "He was about two feet away from us. First he held one hand out and said 'Don't shoot'—and then all of a sudden he pulled a gun from behind him and we all started shooting."

Grant said Lamonia probably saved his life by shoving Nolen's gun aside just as he fired. "I had my gun on semi-automatic and I began pumping lead into his chest. He toppled over to one side, still shooting," Grant said. Another detective shouted a warning that Ballard Nolen was behind a dresser firing at them. "I swung around and gave him a few short bursts," Grant said. "I got him three times in the chest and he caved in, dead." Schuer then surrendered.

MYSTERIOUS RED UNDERGROUND SMUGGLES MESSAGES TO WEST

LONDON, Sept. 22 (UP)—A mysterious underground "Russian revolutionary force" is smuggling anti-Communist messages out of eastern Europe, it was disclosed today.

The messages came from Prague, Czechoslovakia. They are reaching London concealed between sheets of Soviet propaganda sent through the mails.

Most of them are printed in the Russian language. But some are in Romanian.

There is no indication how big the "revolutionary force" is or how extensive are its operations. But the leaflets and manifestos assert that the movement has support in the Russian armed forces.

Some of the leaflets have reached members of the British Parliament.

Mr. Bennett and the Dollar

PREMIER BENNETT'S FIRST venture into the field of finance as a newly-converted Social Creditor is chiefly interesting as a reflection of his own thinking. It will have no effect on national policy.

In a recent statement Mr. Bennett proposed that the Canadian dollar be devalued because it is now too high on the exchanges of the world.

It would almost seem that Mr. Bennett misunderstands the cause of the dollar's present high level. It was not pushed there by the Canadian government but solely by the trade in dollars through the exchanges of the world.

The government underwrote and fixed the value of the dollar for some years during and after the war, when the dollar was weak. When it freed the dollar from all control, our currency immediately could be bought and sold like any commodity.

When a foreigner purchases Canadian goods, or when a foreign investor decides to invest in Canada he buys Canadian dollars. If enough dollars are so purchased in the course of trade and investment the price of dollars automatically rises. If our exports fall, or if foreign investment declines, then the dollar will also fall in value. It is high now because our trade is high and large amounts of foreign money are coming here for investment, thus bidding up the price of our dollar.

Mr. Bennett says the dollar is so high that it makes difficulties for our exporters. True, when Canadian goods are exported now their price, in Canadian dollars, is somewhat higher than it was when the dollar was less valuable. But how can Mr. Bennett argue that this has damaged our export trade when we are exporting far more than ever before, in almost unbelievable volume?

Mr. St. Laurent evidently thinks that the facts are too obvious to need elaboration. He answers Mr. Bennett briefly with the remark that Canada is fortunate to find its dollar so highly valued by the world—the surest proof of our prosperity. The federal government wisely has no intention of devaluing the dollar or interfering with its fluctuation in international exchange.

Mr. Bennett seems to forget that our high-priced dollar buys far more foreign goods than formerly. That is to say, a given quantity of Canadian exports will purchase more imports and hence we are buying foreign goods at a lower cost. This is a factor, not a large but a definite factor, in holding down the cost of living.

If our dollar were devalued it would cost us more to import the essential raw materials of our industry and manufactured foreign goods. It would cost us more to produce and to live.

In any case, the problem which worries Mr. Bennett solves itself automatically through the free movement of the dollar. If our exports should decline, as he fears, then the dollar will drop in value, our export prices will fall and the cost of our imports will rise. That will instantly encourage exports and discourage imports.

Such is one of the primary purposes of free and convertible currencies which, unfortunately, most nations are unable to maintain at present. The basic objective of all the free world governments is to achieve the kind of convertibility and freedom which Canada now enjoys and until it is achieved the world economy will continue to be unbalanced, distorted and poor.

As a Conservative Mr. Bennett no doubt understood and agreed with these objectives. No one has advocated them more strongly than Mr. Drew, who was Mr. Bennett's leader up to a few months ago. As a Social Creditor, however, Mr. Bennett apparently feels it necessary to make at least some faint gesture in support of Social Credit's curious monetary theories, which few understand. His first gesture, in favor of devaluation (which only means in favor of inflation) is not impressive. Certainly it has not impressed Mr. St. Laurent, who knows that our strong dollar is the measurement and confirmation of our national strength.

More Fuel on the Fire

THE EAST GERMAN DELEGATION which visited West Germany to advance proposals for unification of the two sections of the former Reich has succeeded in adding further uncertainty to an already confusing problem.

According to one leader of the delegation, Otto Nuschke, the fellow-traveling Christian Democrat chief, three separate commissions formed among the four occupation powers should discuss a German peace treaty, German unity and all-German elections. But Hermann Matern, Communist leader, said the German people themselves should take the initiative and talk over unification, while the big powers concern themselves with a peace treaty.

The delegation arrived at a time when the democracies are framing a reply to Russia's latest suggestion that a conference be held to settle the German questions. But whereas the Russians want to leave the matter of elections aside until the other problems are settled, Britain, France and the United States see free elections as the nub of the whole problem of unification. And they want a guarantee that East Germany is able to stage an election that would not be rigged in favor of Communist candidates.

The proposal for Germans themselves to enter the fray and provide a solution to the problem which is uppermost in most German minds adds a new element. It might well be that with proper election guarantees from the Soviet such German-to-German talks could be fruitful.

Proving Symphony Appreciation

THROUGH THEIR PURCHASE of tickets for this year's program, music lovers of the community have already proved their support of the Victoria Symphony Society and paid eloquent tribute to the work of director Hans Gruber. By the end of last week 70 per cent of all seats had been sold for the season's concerts.

That places Victoria among the most appreciative symphony cities on the entire continent. Symphonies seldom, if ever, pay for themselves. A symphony orchestra is a costly cultural feature which cannot survive on paid admissions alone. It is fortunate when its year's operations are completed with a minimum deficit. Such has been the case here.

Many of our citizens have devoted themselves tirelessly to the

But Herr Nuschke has added still another straw to the burden with his remark that West Germany would be expected, as part of a unified Germany, to help pay reparations to Russia. That undoubtedly would mean the imposition of extra taxes which West Germans would certainly not want to assume. Russia has taken an estimated $16 billions out of East Germany since the war, with payments scheduled to continue until 1965. West Germany, far less heavily penalized by the western powers, would find such an impost no attraction.

At the same time, the Communists have accompanied this stick with a carrot. They reveal that unification would be quickly followed by release of German war prisoners who are still held as the result of their conviction of crimes. The number so held was set last week at 100,000 by Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany. But more than 1,300,000 Germans are still officially listed as missing from World War II operations on the eastern front.

The latest Communist overture is not on the whole likely to cause any real change in the central European situation. Russia obviously has no pressing desire for unification of the two Germanys except on her own terms, and the west is not likely to agree to any proposal that will not guarantee a Germany free from the threat of Communist coups, whether engineered internally or externally. For some time to come, "the twain" are not likely to meet.

maintenance of the group of musicians whose performances have been increasing in stature in succeeding seasons. Each is entitled to the thanks of the community.

They could not, however, have gained the public support the symphony has been accorded without the excellent leadership of Mr. Gruber. Since acceptance of his appointment, he has devoted his talents completely to his work and has enhanced the position of the orchestra and society through his happy faculty of being able to carry an appeal directly to the community.

If this is to be his last season in Victoria, he may approach it with satisfaction, seeing in the irrefutable evidence of advance ticket sales the esteem in which he and the musical organization he has developed are held.

Chips

By DAVID BROCK

I DON'T KNOW why blaming things on absolutely impossible culprits should be funny. But it is. Every time I cut myself while shaving, I claim the children have been shouting (when they've been silent) or I say they've been rushing into the bathroom and upsetting me (when only one of them has tipped to the door and stolen a way again). When I stumble, I am apt to yell "Who pushed me?" even when there is nobody within yards. I'm something like Donald Duck. I am like the well-known Irvin Cobb character who accused the cat of stamping into the room. We are all more or less like him . . . you less, and I more. But when my family takes me to task for being an absolute duplicate of that bad-tempered old blamer, I like to point out that I am mildness-itself compared with a backwoods hotel-owner that Jim McIlreavy knew.

It happened long ago, and Jim was fond of telling his stories to everyone between Nome and Mexico, so maybe it got into print more than once. But it's still true. Jim was there when it happened.

IN THIS old shanty of a hotel, the wife did all the real work while the husband chopped a little wood, chewed a lot of tobacco, and sat round chewing the fat with the guests. He grumbled about everything. No doubt his sense of uselessness didn't improve his temper. And no doubt his wife pushed him around in private. Many working wives are like that with non-working husbands (and which is cause and which is effect, it is often hard to determine).

Further, whenever he was allowed or forced to use his own efforts, he did everything all wrong. The guests were as amused as the wife was scornful, and he began to blame everything under the sun . . . or rather, including the sun. Also, it commonly happens that when you begin to blame your bad luck in a big way, you attract bad luck in a big way. Things really do happen to you that could happen to nobody else.

WELL, one chilly morning he found he'd let the fire go out in the big drum heater in the so-called lounge. Cursing his luck, he went out into the rain and got a big armful of very green wood. The inside of those sticks was wetter than the rain-soaked bark. Finding that the wood wouldn't ignite worth a hoot, he decided to light the stove with a good old petroleum product, man's best friend. I don't know if it was gasoline or kerosene, but he produced a terrific explosion, whatever he used.

The lid of the heater went right up through the filmy ceiling, and odds and ends were blown in all directions. Including the proprietor himself, who staggered backwards. He would have fallen any way, but he fell a bit sooner through catching his heel on the hotel dog. He gave his head a good bang.

Then he got partly up and hit the dog a good bang too, remarking, "This blank-blank hotel is so full of dogs, you can't even light a fire." Yet my family grumbles about ME! In fact, they blame me. They're chronic blamers, I fear. But not funny.

THE WOOD TO THE ISLES

I HOPE you are all familiar with that ditty, "The Song of the Wood." It is sung to the tune of Men of Harlech, because it is about Ancient Britons who painted themselves blue with woad, and the Britons were (at least in part) the ancestors of the Welsh. And a jolly fine tune it is, too, if you sing it fast enough. It has none of that dismal drop of so many Celtic melodies . . . too many Irish, Welsh and Scots songs seem full of the Atlantic rain.

The words for "The Song of the Wood" were made up by a master at Eton (I think his name was Hope-Jones) for the Eton College Boy Scouts. If we had more Scoutmasters like himself, Scouting would be even better than it is. There isn't space for the whole song here, but the following lines give you an idea:

What's the use of wearing braces,
Vests and pants and boots with laces,
Spats and hats you buy in places
Down in Brompton Road?
What's the use of shirts of cotton,
Studs that always get forgotten?
These affairs are simply rotten.
Better far is woad.
Woad's the stuff to show men,
Woad to scare your foe-men;
Boil it to
A brilliant blue
And rub it on your back and your abdomen.
Ancient Briton
Never hit on Anything as good as woad to fit on Neck or knees or where you sit on . . .
Tailors, you be blowed.

WELL, I was singing this to a little boy, and his sister came in and asked me to explain woad, and abdomens, and such. Which I did. Later I heard her telling her sister about it. "Mary, do you know your stummin' is really called your god-german? And people used to paint it blue." To this, Mary replied, "Any time I want to paint by god-german blue, I'm just going to paint the centre blue and leave the rest pink, because I think it will be prettier that way." No doubt it will.

THAT SHOULD FIX THEM

A PAL of mine applied for a job some months ago. He still hasn't heard anything about it, one way or the other. I asked him why he didn't write or telephone, asking for a definite decision. He said, "No, the heck with them. I'm mad at them now."

This reminded me forcibly of the old story about the drunk who rang a doorbell, got no answer, and sat moodily on the doorstep. A passing cop asked what his trouble was, and then suggested trying another ring on the bell. "No, the heck with them," said the drunk, "let them wait."

REPLY TO 'SLUR'

We have sent to Mayor Claude Harrison the following letter. Inasmuch as His Worship apparently saw fit to release a news item on this matter which appeared in the Colonist on September 12, 1952, we would appreciate your publishing this letter:

His Worship Mayor Claude L. Harrison, City Hall.

The membership of this local union No. 50 (Civic Employees' Protective Association) are deeply concerned over a news item which appeared in the Colonist on September 12, 1952.

We have taken the trouble to ascertain the man who allegedly committed the offense and after a searching investigation believe that the charge is wholly unwarranted.

The person in question can substantiate that he was not near the Gorge beer parlor on the day in question, and the same is true of any other working day. Inasmuch as this worker reported to various foremen at 2:40 p.m., 3:40 p.m., and 4:00 p.m. during the course of the day's activities, there will not be any trouble in substantiating his story. We feel that the news item has cast adverse reflections on the entire civic staff of Victoria, and that such is not fair to a loyal and conscientious group of employees.

We would therefore ask your worship to publicly retract this misinformation and would further respectfully suggest that in the future no such slurs should be cast until the charges are authentic.

G. A. FLETCHER

Secretary, Civic Employees Protective Association No. 50.

DRIVERS FOR THE BLIND

This letter is written in the hope that it may be read by some retired man or woman, or others who have a car, and who would be willing to give about three hours' time on Wednesday afternoons assisting those who, through accident or other causes are totally blind, or so near total blindness that they are accepted as registered members of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Every Wednesday the White Cane Club of Victoria meets in the new Blind Service Centre, at 1609 Blanshard Street, from 2 to 4 p.m. with an average attendance of 95; sometimes the meetings are of a social nature, others are addressed by some well known person. All are made interesting by the program committee, and before the close of each meeting afternoon tea is served.

A number of volunteer ladies and gentlemen now bring these blind people from their homes each Wednesday and take them back again after the meetings, but unfortunately the blind in this area are steadily increasing and more volunteers are needed.

You will not be asked to contribute one penny to the funds of the club. You will be amazed at the courage and cheerfulness of its members, and you will return to your home realizing, perhaps as never before, what it would mean to you and your family if you suddenly lost your sight.

If you care to join the group of 25 ladies and gentlemen now doing this fine work each week, will you kindly phone, write or call. Full details will be gladly given.

Hear! Hear!

Calgary Herald

THE appalling acoustics of the Canadian Commons, working upon generations of M.P.'s, threatened to make outside ears a physical necessity if the nation's work was to get done, and it would have been but a matter of time before the new-born babe destined for a parliamentary career could be spotted instantly by the size and shape of its auditory appendages.

That we would eventually accept this type of physical distinction in our solons may be assumed, but for some considerable time at least the kind of ears which would serve the M.P. well in the House would be a liability of no mean magnitude on the hustings.

The House, then, which is master of its own affairs, may have acted with uncommon good foresight when it decided to purchase and install the type of amplifying system which has been in use at Westminster for some time.

Not only have the members safeguarded their own physical attractiveness, but they have side-stepped the danger of sprouting two big reasons for not being re-elected and may have, who knows, assured that any of their own future heirs will conform in appearance to the presently accepted patterns.

The Timid Soul . . . . . BY H. T. WEBSTER

Off From a Slow Start

By JOSEPH ALSOP, From Chicago

THIS part of the country is supposed to be Taft territory. The Republican citizenry are said to baste with hostility toward Dwight D. Eisenhower. The hard-working pollsters further assert that the Midwest is where the Republican party is weakest, except in the south, of course.

Time will tell whether these theories are correct. Meanwhile, however, the shrewdness of the Republican investment in General Eisenhower is the fact that chiefly impresses this reporter at the conclusion of a fairly long midwestern survey.

There are two important reasons why Eisenhower is proving a sound Republican investment.

First, he is, so to speak, a nationally advertised product, well-known to all, competing with a Democratic candidate who is not at all well-known to the mass of voters.

Second, with the sole exception of a small minority of Sen. Robert A. Taft's bitter-ender admirers, Eisenhower is held in warm affection by all classes and groups. People liked him as a general. They are anxious to like him and to vote for him as a candidate.

They were a bit bothered by the fumbling uncertainty that marked his early appearances in his new political role. But as soon as he began to hit his stride on his southern tour, the people call it, started to soar again. The noise of the southerners' cheers for Ike encouraged great numbers of other people all over the country to join in.

MAIN INGREDIENTS

No one can judge, of course, whether Eisenhower will be able to win the election just because "they like Ike," and because so many voters feel that "it's time for a change."

Yet these have been the main ingredients of Eisenhower's success to date. His farm speech stands alone, thus far, as his only reasonably specific, full-dress discussion of a major national issue. For the farm speech, Eisenhower leapt off the Republican platform and took his stand squarely on the Democratic farm plank.

Senator Taft has laconically commented that, for his part, he still prefers the Republican plank, favoring flexible farm parity instead of the high, fixed parities advocated by Eisenhower and the Democrats.

How much will this sort of thing hurt Eisenhower with the farmers, who are already so suspicious of Republican intentions? One does not know.

Again, when Eisenhower has ventured to be specific in his press conferences and question periods with Republican leaders, he has sometimes cut the ground from under many of his own adherents.

VIOLENT ATTACKS

For instance, Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana is building his whole campaign for re-election around violent attacks on the Korean war as a wicked and useless "meat-grinder" for "our boys." But Eisenhower has merely observed that earlier American blunders invited the Soviet aggression in Korea. He has supported President Truman's response to the Korean challenge.

He has flatly refused to promise an easy or early end to the fighting, and he has just as flatly rejected the MacArthur strategy of extending the fighting beyond the Korean border.

Will these difficulties eventually trip up the general, or can he get by until election day with his effective but far from specific attacks on "the mess in Washington"? Again, one does not know.

As of now, however, what stands out is the big advantage General Eisenhower is deriving from universal awareness of him, and the almost universal liking for him. In effect, Eisenhower has started a whole lap ahead of Adlai E. Stevenson in this rather short electoral race.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"I SEE," said the Elevator Man, "where the doctors' convention here was talking about care of the old folks. Most old people have a foolproof recipe for living to a ripe old age. One old fellow will tell how he never smoked, never drank liquor and never stayed up late. Another ancient will attribute his 80 years or more to smoking, drinking and wasting only a couple of hours a night in bed. Then there are the types who have worked hard all their lives and say that's what made them live so long. But some other elderly cogder will admit, he loafed for the first 75 years, saving his strength for his old age. So it goes. It seems, on the whole, that the best way to gain a real old age is to avoid all accidents and illnesses that tend to kill you. If you can just stave off death, longevity seems to be no problem at all. Lower main!"

"One," said the Elevator Man, "of the best ways is to pick parents, grandparents, who lived a long time. That seems to establish a family habit and the chances are you'll pick it up too. But a Russian expert has come out with a new idea. He says that three soda baths a week will keep you going for ever. He says this prevents albumen solidifying in your blood and makes you stay young indefinitely. Maybe the whisky-and-soda boys had the wrong part of the recipe. Maybe all Ponce de Leon needed was a pinch of soda in his bath. It's certainly in keeping with the times that the Fountain of Youth should be a soda fountain. Going down!"

"But," said the Elevator Man, "as usual, somebody would be bound to misuse it. There'd almost certainly be a few like that charlady who commended her mistress: 'That's a good idea, ma'am, having soda water in them bottles with forthwith. Premier Tolmie has failed to form a coalition.'"

Combating The Crippler

Arthritis, the great crippler, is an enemy of society. Society must fight it on behalf of its afflicted individual members.

Like the V.O.N., the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society carries the burden of responsibility in helping to rehabilitate and relieve the suffering of the crippled in their own homes. There is no room for them in the chronic wards of the hospitals.

An arthritic cripple's case is not hopeless... providing help is at hand.

The Red Feather campaign makes possible the continuation and extension of the society's healing effort.

A woman lies dying, in great pain, and every day she must have a narcotic and simple nursing care...

A sick child, fatherless, whose mother is hard-driven with the responsibilities of work and other small children, waits anxiously for the ease a competent nurse can bring...

An aged man, whose wife is not strong enough to care for him, blesses the helper who brightens his fading days... A frightened mother with her ailing, newborn baby cannot afford a doctor... These are real cases. And there are many more.

These people turn with confidence to the Victorian Order of Nurses; and the V.O.N., in turn, asks the help of the people of Greater Victoria through their donations to the Red Feather campaign.

Bank President Visits B.C. City Branches

Stanley M. Wedd, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, arrived in Victoria over the weekend on a tour of his bank's 83 branches in British Columbia.

With him is W. Tasker Cook, superintendent for B.C. There are five Commerce branches in Victoria, including the main office here under the management of James C. Thow.

"We have a special interest in British Columbia," said soft-speaking, hard-thinking Mr. Wedd, "as we have more branches here than any other bank."

Mr. Wedd pointed out that the old Bank of British Columbia was absorbed by the Commerce bank in 1901. "Since that time we have taken an especially active part in the development and growth of B.C.," he added. "Your progress in the past 10 years has been, of course, extraordinary and there is not much doubt that you have been for some time now the fastest-growing province. We are mighty glad to be able to take part in your expansion."

Mr. Wedd estimated the tremendous growth of banking facilities across Canada in the past 10 years at an overall increase of around 25 per cent.

While the expansion has been most marked in British Columbia, it is a measure of the entire nation's gain in production, he pointed out. Gross national product was worth about six billion dollars in 1939, he said, while this year's total Canadian production would be worth at least twenty-three billion.

The job of the bank has been to keep pace with the new industries and businesses breaking out across the country, Mr. Wedd said. "We've had to go some," he commented, "but we think we have been able to keep up."

"We've had to pioneer in other than strictly banking fields in the course of expansion," Mr. Wedd explained. The Commerce has developed broad advertising and public relations programs to encourage wider use of banking facilities by the general public, he pointed out.

PROMOTION

"A banker, of course, used to dealing in facts and figures, has to regard advertising as something utterly effervescent. Does it pay off? It can't be measured."

Mr. Wedd pointed out, however, that it was an original Canadian idea, sponsored by the Commerce, to help encourage publication of Canadian stories by simply carrying them in the bank's advertising space with the comment: "Published by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, because we liked it."

Anything that helps the development of Canada, whether cultural or industrial, also helps the bank, of course, Mr. Wedd said.

He said he thought that interest rates were quite steady at present. Higher interest rates served as a brake on inflation, he explained, but on the other hand they should not be too high so as to discourage industrial expansion. Mr. Wedd feels, however, that Canadian financial authorities have achieved an admirable balance between inflationary and deflationary tendencies in the economy. "That is why," he said, "our officials are so much admired by our neighbors to the south."

Canada, U.K. Trade Deal

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 (CP).—Col. J. W. Nicholls, a Vancouver exporter, today proposed a plan to finance the shrinking trade with the United Kingdom.

He proposed that exporters accept sterling instead of dollars and that the federal government guarantee to convert the sterling into dollars.

Col. Nicholls said there was danger of a serious slump in Canadian trade unless some way can be found of selling to the sterling group.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22 (CP).—Prices showed an even tone in an inactive session today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Lack of good demand was the main factor in the declines.

Oats and barley received light routine shipper support, with some evidence of American shipper interest in the deferred months of oats. The occasional export order was indicated in barley.

Flax came under heavy hedging pressure, with industrial interests buying on recessions. Rye trade was mostly local.

No information was available on export loadings of Canadian wheat.

Prices for class two wheat were up one cent from Friday. L.W.A. prices were unchanged.

New York Up

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP).—Demand for railroads and radio-television issues put some pep in the stock market today.

Gains were well-distributed throughout the list with only a few sections lagging. While most gains were fractional, the advance pushed between one and two points at the best. Volume amounted to an estimated 1,200,000 shares.

Some stocks doing especially well were Chrysler, Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, Zenith Radio, Radio Corp., Southern Railway, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, and Paramount Pictures, as well as Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, New York Central, Gulf Oil, Eastman Kodak and Douglas Aircraft.

Among Canadian issues, Dome advanced 1/2. Canadian Pacific and Nickel moved up 1/4. McIntyre slipped 1/2 and Hiram Walker dropped 1/2.

On the curb, Yellowknife moved up 1/4. Lake Shore and Royalite were off 1/4 and 1/2 respectively.

Toronto Weak

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP).—Prices continued weak in sluggish trading today toward the stock market's close.

Industrials and base metals slipped steadily throughout the session losing about half a point on the exchange's indices. Golds opened firmly but weakened in later trading while western oils fluctuated small and medium losses. Volume totaled about 2,100,000 shares.

Higher-priced base metals lost strength, leading the section downward.

Western oils posted a majority of losses as Cal and Ed. General Pete A. and Starwell slipped. A few popular issues in the lower-price class gained.

Utilities, steels, constructions and banks led the industrial weakness although manufacturing companies, retail stores and foods were firm. Most price changes were fractional.

Montreal Gains

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP).—Small gains and losses dotted the stock exchange and curb market lists near the close today.

Bank of Montreal climbed a point at 31 for the only major move.

Bell and Brazilian improved fractions in a higher utilities section. Banks were also firmer.

Senior oils and beverages posted a majority of declines.

Steels, senior metals, papers and miscellaneous industrials balanced a list of changes. Mines were steady to higher in light trading. Kennamoy, Silver-Miller and Kerr-Adams improved. In western oils, Federated Petroleum, Sweet Grass and Trans American firmed but New Continental, Jet and Trans Empire lost ground.

Industrial volume was 30,800 shares and mines 110,600.

Vancouver Slow

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22—Noon close—Features were absent from Vancouver Exchange in quiet trade in the early session today. Sales volume was low.

Investment interests cropped up at midsession in several junior western oils. Base metal leaders also attracted some support. Industrials were mostly unchanged.

In the oils, Federated finished at $8.90. Among the mines, Quatsino closed at 65 cents, and Pacific Nickel 92 cents.

In the industrials, Canadian Western Lumber was $8.

London Lower

LONDON, Sept. 22 (Reuters).—As on most occasions last week, the stock market made a poor showing today.

The featured section was gilt-edged stocks and it set the pace for most other domestic sections. Some issues lost as much as half a point.

Trading was small in the industrial market and apart from brewery and tobacco shares values were generally lower. A good feature in early dealing was British Celanese which put on 18d to 24s, following a better-than-expected dividend. But this gain was not held and the share closed only 3d higher at 22s 9d. Courtaulds showed a 1 1/2d rise at 35s 3d by the close.

Japanese issues in the foreign bond market lost half a point in early trading but they made a partial recovery. German showed little variation.

Scant interest was shown in mines. Kaffirs managed to hold small gains. Diamonds maintained the previous closing levels.

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP).—Stocks closing: Babcock & Wilcox 6 1/2, Boots Pure Drug 20 1/2, Canadian Pacific 10 1/2, Consolidated Goldfields 4 1/2, Courtaulds 24 1/2, Imperial Chemicals 4 1/2, Imperial Tobacco 5 1/2, Metal Box 1 1/2, Messageries 24 1/2, Shell 6 1/2, Standard Oil 14 1/2, Unilever 14 1/2, War Loans 17 1/2, British Funds 18 1/2 to 19 1/2 to 20 1/2.

Leger Plans to Remain in East

It's official now—Victoria Cougars will have a new coach when they start the 1952-53 Western Hockey League season.

Who he will be is not yet known. The news of the coaching move came, with the announcement from Montreal that Roger Leger, who coached the Cougars for the last two seasons, has signed to play with Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

The announcement stated that Frank Selke, general manager of the Montreal Canadiens, wanted Leger to remain in the east this year.

REJECTS OFFERS

Leger rejected coaching offers from Chicoutimi and St. Jerome of the Quebec Junior League and Rouyn of the Northern Quebec League.

Leger has been working out with the Royals since the opening of training camp last week and played Saturday night in an exhibition game against the Canadiens. Bobby Frampton, with the Cougars the last two seasons, also played with the Royals Saturday.

Leger leaves the Cougars with a great record, having piloted them to the league and playoff championships in the 1950-51 season and to the finals of the league playoffs last season.

STILL NO NEWS

Cougar general manager Fred Hutchinson reported this morning that he had not received any information from Montreal regarding players or a new coach. At present the only Cougar signed for the season is goalie Jerry Cotnor. However, the news should come thick this week as players leaving Montreal for Victoria will have to start traveling Wednesday or Thursday, except for a few who will fly here.

Over the week-end, Seattle owner Frank Dotten announced that the Seattle club would have a new name this season—Bombers. The change of name from Ironmen is tied in with Seattle's large aircraft industry.

Champion Stars Suffer Acute Embarrassment

By The Canadian Press
A sheepish Hollywood line flew the Pacific Coast League pennant today. They'll gladly tell you how they won it, but don't ask them about their final two ball games.

For the Stars weren't starting as they dropped both ends of a Sunday doubleheader with Seattle, 6-5 and 7-2, to wind up the season.

The Rainiers rubbed Hollywood's nose in the already-settled dust by blossoming with six runs in the first inning of the nightcap. Then Seattle sat back and watched the Stars vainly attempt to regain their twinkle.

Behind Hollywood the clubs finished in this order: Oakland, Seattle, Portland, San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento.

BOYD BAT LEADER

Seattle officials reported that on the basis of unofficial figures, Rainiers' first baseman Bob Boyd won the Pacific Coast League batting crown with .320, nosing out his teammate Artie Wilson who had .315.

Portland's Beavers and San Francisco's Seals romped through a doubleheader, as Portland clinched fourth place in the final standings by taking the first, 3-2. The Beavers returned after the intermission and repeated, 6-5.

The end of the P.C.L. season saw the Los Angeles Angels just getting started. They over-

Royals, Wings All Square in Governor's Cup

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP).—A three-hit shutout by Tom Lasorda gave Montreal Royals a 6-0 victory over the Rochester Red Wings Sunday and tie the best-of-seven Governor's Cup baseball series 1-1. Rochester won the opening game Saturday 5-3.

Lasorda, a southpaw, kept the game under-control all the way. The Red Wings had only six base-runners and two of them were wiped out by double plays.

Jackie Collum, who started for Rochester, was belted for 10 hits and all six of the Montreal runs before retiring in the seventh. Jack Criminian finished the inning but made way for a pinch-hitter and Bobby Tiefenauer hurled the last frame.

Don Hoak, Junior Gilliam, Wally Fila and Frank Marchio paced the Montreal hitters with two apiece.

In Saturday's game, the Royals used four pitchers with the loss being charged against Gil Mills, who was belted for seven hits and three runs in the four innings he worked. He was replaced by Art Fabbro, who made way for a pinch-hitter after hurling one inning. Bob Alexander, who then took over the mound chores, gave up the last two Rochester runs.

Brampton One Game Up in Boxla Series

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Sept. 22 (CP).—Brampton Excelsors swung into a one-game lead in the best-of-five Canadian junior lacrosse final Saturday night by slipping by Vancouver Kerries 16-13 on the strength of a five-goal lead in the first period. Down 13-8 after the third quarter, Vancouver put on a big spur near the end and closed within two goals of the easterners with seven minutes left. But in the remaining time, Brampton poked in two more to Kerries' singleton.

Tars Win Service Soccer Opener

Incogs Down Five C's; Share Cricket Crown

With their backs to the wall, Incogs of the Victoria and District Cricket Association defeated Five C's Saturday to force a first-place tie in the final standings. Incogs batted with authority to pile up their runs and then received a standout bowling chore from young Jimmy Sherratt to dismiss Five C's. Sherratt took the first five wickets for only 22 runs, clean bowling three of the batsmen.

The victory put Incogs in a top spot deadlock with Albions and the teams will share the league trophy for the year rather than hold a playoff. Ben Twamley of Alcos recorded the highest individual batting score of the season Saturday when he batted up 114 runs as Alcos thumped Oak Bay 208-120. He had 16 fours and two sixes.

Incogs batted with authority to pile up their runs and then received a standout bowling chore from young Jimmy Sherratt to dismiss Five C's. Sherratt took the first five wickets for only 22 runs, clean bowling three of the batsmen.

COURTNEY, BLACK NAMED TOP ROOKIES

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22 (AP).—Pitcher Joe Black, of Brooklyn Dodgers, and catcher Clint Courtney, of St. Louis Browns, were named rookies of the year Saturday by St. Louis Sporting News.

The weekly paper said it picked Black as National League rookie for "his outstanding relief work." Courtney was selected because of his fielding excellence, aggressive spirit and "ability to take charge."

BOB BOOMS HOME New Car Race Record

A new track record was set Saturday night at Shearling Speedway, near Duncan, and the boy who did the trick also took top money—in the events he raced.

Bob Simpson was the pilot. His time in trials was 16.29 seconds. The former record was 16.40 which Seattle's Del Fanning had driven a few weeks ago. Simpson drove nice races to win the Helmet Dash, first heat and main event.

Stock car racers on the program gave the racing car jockeys a run for their money for thrills. Ken Madill won the 20-lap feature stock event which saw several cars get into blood-curdling trouble. Terry Corder was second, and Mel McDonald third.

Vern Bruce won the modified stock car main event. The crowd went through a hair-bristling experience along with racing car driver, George Haslam, when he crashed in the time trials. Coming out of the north turn wide, Haslam slammed into the guard rail broadside, and smashed up his car.

Results follow:
Big cars—Helmet dash, Mel McDonald, Vern Bruce, first heat; Terry Corder, Bill Hughes, Ross Crimmet, main event; Ken Madill, Corder, McDonald.

Dykes Charges Umpire With 'Yankee Loving'

Yanks Win Tight One; Dodgers Cinch for Tie

BY CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (UP).—Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Athletics, almost exploding with anger, charged today that a call by umpire Ed Hurley might cost his players $500 apiece—as well as giving the Yankees a tremendous boost in the maddening American League pennant race.

The "wrong call," Dykes thinks, may well become the difference between his Athletics finishing fourth and third, "because it damn well cost us this ball game."

"It was the worst call I ever have seen in all my years in baseball," Dykes roared. "And he knows it, too. I went out there and called him every name in the books including Yankee lover and he didn't throw me out of the game. I said a lot less last Friday night to umpire Bill Grieve and he did throw me out."

The Yankees won the pulsing, pounding pitchers' battle, 1-0, on a throbbing three-hitter by superchief Allie Reynolds, keeping them a game and a half ahead of the non-stop Cleveland Indians, who drubbed Detroit again, 7-1.

CRUCIAL CALL

Hurley's call came on a 3 and 1 pitch by Reynolds to Joe Astor with the bases loaded in the ninth inning. Astor and Dykes both blew sky high, insisting the pitch was high and that it should have been called a ball. Hurley called it a strike and tied the score at 1-1, leaving the bases still loaded with only one man out. Instead Astor popped out on the next pitch. The next batter, pinch-hitter Allie Clark, also popped out to end the game.

The Yankees gained their only run off Harry Byrd, who had one-hit them in his last start against them as Yogi Berra singled in Joe Collins, from second in the sixth. Collins had been safe on a force-out and gone to second on a wild throw.

Meanwhile, Cleveland had no difficulty topping Detroit on Bob Lemon's four-hitter for his 21st victory and Cleveland's fifth in a row. Al Rosen hammered home four runs with a homer and double, bringing his runs batted in total to an even 100—tops for the league.

In the National League where apparently it is all over, the Dodgers clinched at least a pennant tie when big Joe Black, making the first start of his career after 54 distinguished relief appearances, held the Boston Braves to just three hits in an 8-2 triumph. While Brooklyn was making it three in a row, Boston, the Giants were losing their third in a row to the Phillies, 6-2. Brooklyn clinched its game with a six-run rally in the eighth after Roy Campanella had hit a homer earlier. Black hit a two-run single in the rally and Carl Furillo got his second double, also good for two runs.

The Giants, who now could gain only a tie even if they win all their remaining six games while Brooklyn was losing all of its six still left to play, completed their collapse in Philadelphia as Russ Meyer scattered nine hits. Bill Nicholson hit a three-run Philly homer.

CHICAGO MOVES UP

In other American League games, Chicago moved a game and a half ahead of the fourth place Athletics by topping the Browns, 4-1, on Billy Pierce's 15th victory, while the Red Sox, after losing nine straight to the Senators, finally topped them, 7-3. Elsewhere in the National League, the Cubs topped the Cards, 3-2, on Bill Seren's two-run homer and the four-hit pitching of Bob Rush, while the Reds edged the Pirates, 4-3 on homers by Ted Kluszewski and Jim Greengrass.

In Saturday's games in the National, Brooklyn tripped the Braves 1-0 in 10 innings, the Phillies edged the Giants 3-2 and the Cards were mathematically eliminated from the pennant race when the last 41 to the Cubs, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were idle.

In the American the Yankees shut out the Athletics 2-0, Cleveland routed Detroit 11-3, Washington beat Boston 10-6 and the Browns took from the White Sox 9-6 and 4-0.

DISTRICT SEASON AWAY

Soccer Starts With Few Goals

Victoria West and Heaneys fought it out to a no-score draw and Canadian Legion bested Esquimalt, 2-1, during the week-end as the Victoria and District Football Association got the 1952-53 season rolling.

Fair crowds turned up at Royal Athletic Park to see the opening games.

Two senior games are carded this week-end: Civil Service vs. Canadian Scottish and Esquimalt vs. West—but as yet, playing fields have not been decided, reports Secretary Don Gray.

In spite of intense heat, Sunday's fans at the park saw West and Heaneys put up good, strong defensive performances to finish scoreless.

ROOKIE SPARKLES

Gordy Harvey, up from the juniors, and considered a great asset to the cartagmen, turned in an excellent performance in goal.

In the second half he made a sensational dive for the corner of his net to beat what looked like a sure thing from the boot of Whitey Turner.

Toward the end of the game Harvey got in the way of West's Joe Clarkson's hard shot. It rebounded back at Clarkson and grounded him. He was out of commission for a short time. Norm Richards was between the sticks for the defending league champions West and turned in a fine job.

Both teams fielded the majority of their last season's players. Passing in the Heaneys' forward line was superior, with the West a bit off on their shooting.

JOHNSON SCORES PAIR

Bill Johnson, a former junior of the Canadian Scottish who has been turning out with the United, was in the spotlight in the Esquimalt-Legion Saturday meeting. He played a top game in the centre forward position and registered Legion's two goals.

Esquimalt led 1-0 at the half-way mark but Legion came back strong in the final 45 minutes to take the victory.

First-season views indicate both teams have improved line-ups for the new campaign.

New faces in Legionnaire's uniform were forwards Johnson, Dave Whiteside, Les Williams and Ken Sneddon. Frank Lohner, with the United last year, at left half, and Johnny Weldon, centre half, were a strengthening influence on the defense.

Esquimalt's only new comer was Norm Haskell, right half. Ronny Pearce, taking over the

VETERAN COMES THROUGH

Drysdale Winner of Weiler-Regan Trophy

Bandsman Frank Drysdale is the 1952 winner of the Weiler-Regan trophy, featured silverware in local rifle shooting competition.

He annexed the cup Saturday by finishing the three-round match with an aggregate score of 277x304. In the first two stages he marked up 187 and registered a 90 over the 900 and 1,000-yard ranges to post the best overall score.

Veteran rifle shot and bandsman Drysdale collared the trophy for the first time. He had come close twice previously.

Gerry Valleau finished in the runner-up spot. He carded 86 in the final to compile an 86-274.

Third stage prize went to Major A. E. Evans by reversion from Drysdale and Valleau. The major's 45 was tops at the 1,000-yard range. A stiff wind was blowing. Second stage honors was Sgt. Albert Ashe. O/Cadet F. E. Richardson won the first stage by reversion from S/Sgt. Dave McCredy.

Prizes were presented at the close of the meet by Sgt. J. H. Regan, who won the Weiler Trophy outright several times and re-donated it for competition as the Weiler-Regan Trophy.

Third stage scores and aggregate follow:
Drysdale, 86-277; Valleau, 86-274; Ashe, 84-271; Richardson, 85-271; Ellen Leary, 84-271.

Seixas Downs Sedgman To Brighten U.S. Hopes

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22 (AP).—Vic Seixas brightened the Davis Cup picture for the United States Sunday when he handed Frank Sedgman his first defeat in tournament play since early in the 1951 tennis season.

The captain of the U.S. team boomed over a high, hard, twisting serve often enough to defeat the great Australian, 6-4, 6-4 in the finals of the Pacific Southwest Tournament. Sedgman was the favorite and defending champion.

National champion Maureen Connolly came through as expected, dropping one set before winning the women's singles crown from Doris Hart, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Altogether it was a sad day for the Australians. Besides Sedgman, three of his countrymen went down to defeat in finals matches.

Two of them, Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, bowed to Herb Flam of Los Angeles and Hugh Stewart of Pasadena, in the men's doubles final, 1-6, 9-7, 1-6, 9-7, 6-2.

Canadian Football Rises To Its Greatest Week-End

STAMPS STRICKEN BY BRIGHT'S SORE TUMMY

CALGARY, Sept. 22 (CP)—Calgary Stampers suffered another serious blow Sunday when star import halfback Johnny Bright was rushed to hospital with an acute attack of appendicitis.

Bright collapsed while Stampers were holding a practice in preparation for their game against Edmonton Eskimos tonight in Calgary.

He was immediately rushed to hospital where he was operated on, and his condition was reported satisfactory late Sunday evening.

Bright is expected to be lost to the Stampers for about three weeks.

Another Stampeder half, Harry Hood, suffered a broken nose while making a shoestring tackle on Eskimos' Jim Chambers in Saturday's game.

Leaders Hold Pole Spots

The Monday morning quarterbacks should have plenty to chew about today, climax to as spectacular a week-end of senior football the country has had this season.

There were record-breaking crowds, Merriwell finishes, tight squeezes and runaway victories and a continuation of the pattern also-ran clubs have set up of not being able to buy a victory.

The heavy week-end schedule continues tonight in the west with Saskatchewan Roughriders at Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Edmonton Eskimos at Calgary Stampers.

OFFICIAL FIGURES RELEASED

Poccey Bat Champ; Lorino Top Hurler

Walt Poccey, rangy Wenatchee Chief catcher, is the new official batting champion of the Western International League, according to final batting figures released by league headquarters.

Poccey finished strong to record a .352 average for the season, wrestling the batting crown held by Vancouver catcher John Ritchey. Ritchey finished second this year with a .345 mark.

Mel Wasley of Spokane was third at .334 and Victoria's Bob Moniz fourth with a .328 mark.

Poccey was the leader in hits, total bases and doubles.

Cec Garriott and Granny Gladstone of the pennant-winning Tyees were the slugging leaders. Garriott was the home run king with 17 and was runner-up in runs-batted-in with 112.

Gladstone led the league in runs-batted-in with 126 and was second in homers with 15.

Ben Lorino of Victoria was the leading pitcher with a 24-7 record although mate Leroy Han was the nominal leader with a 4-1 mark.

Lorino also pitched the most innings.

Jehosiah Weas was tied with George New of Tri-City for strikeout honors with 216. Heard also pitched the only no-hitter of the season.

Sedgman Turning Pro?

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Jack Kramer, professional tennis promoter competing in the world pro tournament here, said today "I gather Frank Sedgman will probably turn pro after the Davis Cup matches."

Sedgman, generally rated the world's No. 1 amateur tennis player, is the bulwark of the Australian Davis Cup team and currently is playing in California.

Kramer said he is so certain that Sedgman will turn professional that he has changed his mind about retiring after the present tournament and that he is going into intensive training for a comeback as Sedgman's foe.

Nixon Promises Complete Report On Campaign Expense Charge

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 22 (AP).—Senator Richard Nixon, in the strongest sign yet that he will stay on as the Republican candidate for vice president, announced plans today for a radio-television report to the voters of the United States on his finances—personal and political.

The California senator, caught in a campaign squeeze by his $18,000 expense fund, broke off his current western trip temporarily to present his case to the people, either Tuesday or Wednesday night. But he emphasized that he intends to resume the tour.

"I informed General Eisenhower last night in a telephone conversation of my decision," Nixon told newspaper men, referring to the radio-television plans, "and he agreed that that was the proper way to handle the situation."

It was immediately taken as a strong indication that Eisenhower has decided to stand by his young running mate. Nixon has contended he used the $18,000 for his fight against Communism and corruption and not for personal profit.

The expense fund was contributed by some 75 Californians, many of them wealthy. Individual contributions ranged as high as $500.

Nixon said in his statement dictated to reporters:

"In line with my conviction that the truth is the best answer both to a smear and to honest misunderstanding, I intend to lay before the American people all the facts concerning the fund which was used for political purposes, and in an unprecedented action I am going to present to the American people my entire personal financial history from the time I entered political life."

Disclosure of the donations by wealthy California supporters provoked Democratic charges that his acceptance of the money while serving as a senator was morally wrong. And it brought demands for his resignation as the Republicans feared for vice president.

War Ace Sees Threat Of Air-Borne Attack

Soviet Russia's air force would prove a mighty adversary in time of war, Wing Commander J. F. Easton, D.F.C., told a meeting of the Air Force Officers' Association of Vancouver Island Saturday night.

"Air invasion is the chief threat to Canada today," he declared. If North America can maintain strong air superiority it need not fear invasion by land or water, he said.

Speaking at a banquet in commemoration of the Battle of Britain, Wing Commander Easton declared the Germans made their biggest mistake in under-estimating the importance of the United Kingdom's air force in the early stage of the Second World War.

"It is possible that if the Germans had concentrated on Germany...

ing out the British planes instead of soldiers, there might not have been a Battle of Britain and we might not have been here today," he said.

Dealing with Canada's air strength, the speaker said the day was not far away when 12 Canadian jet fighter groups would be based in Europe.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

One of my zanier constituents is expressing great sadness that the Boyd gang did not manage to reach Victoria. He was hoping to offer a new slogan to the Tourist Bureau—"follow the Boyds to Victoria."

I like Time magazine's heading on its story of the gang's escape. "Open Door Policy."

One of my fellow workers takes a pessimistic look into the future, and sees the final step in the C.P.R.'s changes in boat service to the mainland.

"When the last C.P. ship sails from Victoria for the last time," he says, "it will tow a large barge, on which will be placed the legislative buildings."

"The remaining inhabitants of Victoria (if any) will then drive to Nanaimo, and live happily ever after."

It has been some time since a letter-to-the-editor writer complained that the C.P. ships are making too much smoke while in harbor.

A headline states: "POLICE THINK BOWDY CHIEFS UNDER ARREST."

That's the spirit. Chief or no chief, if he is rowdy, toss him in jail.

It has taken me all this time to work up enough courage to admit it, but I was responsible for the little news item which read: "Father Flanagan and his famed Boys Town choir arrived in Victoria..."

I hereby apologize to any readers who expected to see Father Flanagan in the flesh. But, seriously, it is likely the great man was present in spirit.

The bureau of statistics has revealed the awful truth that there is a shortage of eligible males in Canada.

There are more males than females, but not enough in what is considered, from the feminine viewpoint, the useful age group—20 to 34.

The feminine theory of eligibility seems to be that anyone under 20 is too callow, and over 34, either too aged or too wily for matrimony.

The Canadian Press story on this alarming situation stated: "There were, according to the 1951 census, only 537,543 males in the 20 to 34-year group to handle 551,106 women of the same age group."

Even if there were 551,106 men, they couldn't handle that many women.

A doctor in the United States faces a possible jail sentence of more than 2,000 years.

Medical science has indeed made great strides in increasing life expectancy.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

B.C. Court of Appeal has thrown out an appeal by a Vancouver woman who earlier this year was convicted in mainland police court of having tried to steal a ham worth $1.75 from Woodward's Stores Ltd.

The woman, Mrs. Marie Nelson, was appealing against conviction, which carried a fine of $15.

The appellant said she picked up the ham in the self-service section of the grocery but did not pay for it with the rest of her groceries because she wanted to compare it with hams at the bacon counter. It was at the bacon counter where she was stopped by store detectives.

Archbishop Still Hopeful Of Christendom's Reunion

Unity rather than uniformity ought to be sought in any present-day efforts toward bringing together of the churches, Most Rev. Harold E. Sexton said in the course of a sermon in Christ Church Cathedral Sunday morning.

Uniformity does not matter so much, he declared, but unity in Christendom does.

Just back from the sessions of the General Synod of the Anglican Church in Canada at London, Ont., the Archbishop reminded the large congregation of the church's great heritage. The mother church in England had been born when missionaries traveled westward and carried the truths of Christianity from the Apostles themselves.

The growth of the church overseas in the last 200 years had been phenomenal. Now, in Africa, the church had 11 native bishops and in India nearly all are native bishops, one of whom is the Metropolitan.

In the Anglican Church, through its centuries of development, the pulpit had not usurped the place of the altar, nor had the altar silenced the pulpit.

As to efforts to reunite Christendom, he pointed out the Anglican Church is in communion with the Old Catholic Church of the continent of Europe.

It had been truly said a divided church cannot minister to a divided world. While Anglicans were justly proud of the position and history of their church, he urged them to be tolerant while recognizing the great influence they could exert in discussions of the reunion of Christendom.

B.C. Civil Servants Optimistic

Cabinet Committee May Hear Problems

Premier W. A. C. Bennett today indicated agreement to a B.C. Government Employees' Association request for establishment of a special cabinet subcommittee to deal with all matters concerning civil servants.

Request for the committee was made this morning by Carl Hauck, New Westminster, association president; William Oliver, Victoria, vice-president; E. P. O'Connor, Vancouver, general secretary, and A. C. Bennett, Vancouver, assistant general secretary.

Mr. O'Connor said after the meeting Premier Bennett had indicated agreement to the association request, and the officials had assured the premier full co-operation.

The association wants the subcommittee to exist all the time, and be composed of the same cabinet ministers, "so there can be continuity."

The subcommittee would meet with association officers from time to time, discuss problems, and then make recommendations to the full cabinet.

The association delegation did not press the premier for a five-day week, but this matter will be discussed at the association's annual meeting in Victoria October 24-25 when more than 80 delegates will be present.

Other topics slated for discussion are twice-monthly pay (civil servants are now paid once monthly) and the matter of allowing civil servants the right to arbitration proceedings.

Under the auspices of the Brentwood Chapel Guild, S. E. H. Shiner will show colored slides of the Pasadena Rose Festival and the Indian regatta at Deep Cove at 8 p.m. on Friday, in St. Steven's parish hall.

Oak Bay, Esquimalt Win Coveted Year Book Awards

Two Greater Victoria high schools have won the top prizes in the annual competition sponsored by the Vancouver Daily Province for the best high school year books produced in B.C.

Oak Bay High, one of the smallest schools ever to win the coveted Challenge Shield, won out over schools many times its size.

In second place, for instance, was Kildale High with 1,600 students. Oak Bay High has 377.

Esquimalt High School, for the second consecutive year, won the Cecil Scott Memorial Shield for schools with enrollments of less than 250.

According to judges, the outstanding theme and art work of the "Oak Leaf" won the Challenge Shield for Oak Bay. On the staff were Frank Lewis, student

PTE. FRED HART

'GOOD LEADER'

Dick Buxton Praised by Army Buddy

By ROY THORSEN

Sgt. Dick Buxton, Victoria's newest D.C.M. winner for brilliant leadership in the infantry's front line, today was described by a fellow fighter from Korea as "a good leader—a man who has the confidence of the men he leads in action."

The description came from Pte. Fred A. Hart, 25, of 1725 Beach, son of Capt. F. G. Hart and Mrs. Hart, who returned from overseas last week.

Pte. Hart was a member of "C" company, led by Sgt. Buxton, which became involved in a surprise enemy attack late last March. It was in that action the Victoria sergeant gained his distinguished award.

"The enemy had speared up very close, but luckily one of them stepped on a mine to alert us that an attack was imminent," said Pte. Hart.

"Burton's courage under such a situation endeared him to the hearts of his men," said Pte. Hart.

Pte. Hart says he is going to quit the army and return to school.

In a second accident which occurred on the Island Highway early Saturday morning, John Edgar Wood, 18, pleaded guilty in city police court to a charge of taking a car without the owner's consent. He was remanded until Sept. 24 for sentence.

Two juveniles, who were in the car with Wood, will appear in juvenile court on Wednesday. A second adult is believed to have accompanied the trio, but so far police have not made an arrest.

The accident followed a wild ride over the Island Highway in a car taken from Central Auto Sales property at 855 Pandora Avenue. The car, a 1948 Pontiac sedan, smashed into an abutment off Diamond Creek Bridge, one mile north of Ladysmith.

Detective Richard Berry said the car was taken from a parking space, which was chained off. "They drove through the chain in taking the car," he said.

The police officer said the car smashed up against the bridge when the youths were returning to Victoria. They were all picked up near Duncan, he said.

Editor of the Esquimalt annual was Kitty Dixon, who kept Times readers informed during the summer of her travels to the United Kingdom with the Elgar junior choir.

Hope Dim for Improved Ship Service for City

After a 90-minute session with Capt. Oliver J. Williams, manager of B.C. Coast Service, Chamber of Commerce officials here hold little hope that the C.P.R. will change its announced winter Victoria-Vancouver schedule.

"We presented our case for the use of the two fast boats instead of the slow ones," Chamber president Tom Denny said after the meeting this morning.

"This would represent a saving of $50,000 per month to the C.P.R. over last year's winter schedule. But the company wants a still larger saving," said Mr. Denny.

"We marshalled all the thunder we could think of and received a pleasant reception from Capt. Williams but I do not think the C.P.R. is too concerned with a direct link from Victoria to Vancouver. It was indicated this morning that the company favors the Nanaimo-Vancouver route and believes that Victoria will not suffer too badly from the emphasis placed on it."

The Chamber representation suggested Princess Patricia and

Five Youths Face Magistrate After Joy Riding Crack-Ups

Stolen Cars Involved in Two Mishaps

Three youths were charged in Saanich and city police courts today with "joy-riding" and two other boys appeared in juvenile court on similar charges.

The youths, on "riding sprees" over the week-end, were involved in two spectacular accidents in Saanich and on the Island Highway. All escaped serious injuries.

In Saanich police court, Ross Jewell, 867 Somenos, and John B. Mills, 3219 Seaton Road, were remanded without plea until Sept. 25 on a charge of taking a car without the owner's permission Saturday night.

Defense counsel Ronald Grant told Magistrate H. C. Hall that the youths were contemplating a plea of guilty. He asked for an adjournment, however, pending a probation officer's report.

The youths miraculously escaped serious injuries when the car which they allegedly took from Charles Galt, 205 Burnside Road, crashed into a bank off Ruby Road.

Saanich police said the driver lost control of the car after swinging onto Ruby Road from Arbutus Road about 1 a.m. Sunday. The car grazed a pole, shot up a bank and turned over.

The two youths, suffering from shock, cuts and abrasions, reportedly made an attempt to run away when police arrived on the scene of the accident. They were apprehended and taken to the Royal Jubilee Hospital for treatment.

GUILTY PLEA

In a second accident which occurred on the Island Highway early Saturday morning, John Edgar Wood, 18, pleaded guilty in city police court to a charge of taking a car without the owner's consent. He was remanded until Sept. 24 for sentence.

Two juveniles, who were in the car with Wood, will appear in juvenile court on Wednesday. A second adult is believed to have accompanied the trio, but so far police have not made an arrest.

U.S. Steelmen Gather Here In Convention

The American Institute of Steel Construction, a corporation representing the structural steel fabricating industry of the United States, will hold its annual convention in Victoria September 29 to October 2.

More than 650 steelmen from all parts of the U.S., plus a number of guests from Canadian fabricators, will attend.

Members of the association are responsible for 85 per cent of the steel used in U.S. building each year.

Hon. H. H. Stevens will deliver one of the principal addresses at the convention on October 1, when he speaks on the development of B.C.'s resources.

The annual address of the president will be given by R. D. Wood, of the Mississippi Valley Structural Steel Co. The annual banquet will be addressed by J. Stewart Neary, of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, Los Angeles.

Other prominent men who will speak are: Dr. Adam S. Bennion, vice-president, Utah Power & Light Co.; Alfred L. Miller, professor of mechanics and structures, University of Washington; C. M. Corbit Jr. and Elmer E. Gunnette, district engineers, A.I.S.C.

A panel will discuss the effects of the steel strike on the supply of material.

Crown Asks Woman Get Heavier Term On Narcotic Count

Imposition of a longer prison sentence against Catherine Couturier, 22, was asked by Crown counsel W. Heffernan in B.C. Court of Appeal today.

The young woman was convicted earlier this year on a drug charge. She was arrested with an elderly Chinese in April. The two were living together on a farm in Ruskin, near Haney, B.C., evidence showed.

R.C.M.P. found drugs hidden on the farm which they said were worth $36,000 on the illegal market.

Tried before a County Court judge, the Chinese was sentenced to four years in prison, and the young woman to 12 months.

Mr. Heffernan argued before the appeal bench that the 12-month sentence was too lenient in view of the seriousness of the charge.

Builders Take Dispute to Labor Board

Victoria Builders' Exchange has applied to the Labor Relations Board for a hearing to clarify issues in the work stoppage last week at H.M.C.S. Naden.

Trouble arose when carpenters and other union men, returning to work at the project after their prolonged strike, called the stoppage because two laborers had continued to work during the carpenters' strike.

"We want the whole thing straightened out," said W. J. Hamilton, exchange president, "even if it means decertification of the carpenters' union. We feel no union has the right to deprive a man of his livelihood, and that we have some say in who will work for us."

The exchange claimed the carpenters violated their new agreement by calling the work stoppage and demanding that the two laborers be laid off. Union headquarters reported, however, that men of several unions refused to work and that it was "not a union matter."

The two men who are blamed for the trouble have been invited to appear at an executive meeting of the Laborers' International Union Tuesday night, when the whole matter will be discussed. They were moved from the job by the contractor, Commonwealth Construction Co., but may be moved back shortly.

Annual meeting of the Ward Three provincial Conservative Association will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at 1340 Stanley Avenue.

House-Breaker's Sentence Stands, Three Judges Rule

Appeal against conviction and sentence filed by Edward Baker, 21, of Prince George, was dismissed by B.C. Court of Appeal today.

Baker, who appeared without counsel before the court, said he was innocent of the breaking and entering charge on which he was convicted at Prince George's spring Assize Court sitting.

The three-man court said that he should have testified on his own behalf before the jury, instead of sitting quietly by, if he had wanted to contradict the evidence which was submitted against him.

The appeal judges decided Baker's two-year sentence should stand, in view of two previous convictions.

Representatives of provincial and civic circles joined with past and present staff members of Victoria Public Library and other library groups in Greater Victoria, Seattle and Vancouver, at an afternoon reception Sunday, in Oak Bay Beach Hotel, given to honor Miss Margaret Clay, who is retiring as librarian of the Victoria Public Library.

Hosts were members of the Victoria Public Library Board, and receiving with Miss Clay was the board chairman, Dr. J. D. Hunter.

Afternoon tea was served from a table centred with an arrangement of bright autumn flowers and lighted candles. Mrs. Leslie Macdonell, Mrs. Waldo Skilling, Mrs. Claude Harrison, Mrs. J. F. K. English, Mrs. F. M. Cabell, Mrs. M. E. Godson, Mrs. C. K. Morrison and Mrs. Willard Ireland presided at the tea and coffee urns. Assisting with arrangements were Mrs. J. D. Hunter, Miss Thersa Pollock and Miss Hazel King.

During the afternoon, on behalf of the library board and of a wide group of friends and fellow associates, past and present, Dr. Hunter presented Miss Clay with a wallet and a cheque, as tangible proof of the esteem in which she is held personally and for her work in the library field, also two framed chromo-xylograph originals, "Leaf of Gold" and "Vapors Round the Mountain," by the well-known Canadian, W. J. Phillips, who works and lives at Banff.

Among out-of-town guests present for the occasion were Mr. Neil Harlow, librarian at University of British Columbia, and Mrs. Harlow; Mr. Harry Bauer, head of the library at University of Washington, Seattle; and former Victoria library staff members, Mrs. Jack Neilson, Vancouver; Mrs. Arthur C. Also among guests was Dr. Helen Stewart, who preceded Miss Clay as librarian at the Victoria library.

Miss Clay wore for the occasion a silver grey sheer dress with black belt and black hand-woven stole touched with a silver-thread design and small black velvet off-face hat with an attractive half-veil. Mrs. Hunter wore an afternoon dress of gun metal taffeta with matching off-face hat and cluster of mauve and rose flowers. ### Worth Weight in Blood

Brownie, 15-year-old horse, views his latest contribution to the welfare of mankind—two gallons of his blood. During seven years the horse has given 2,000 pounds of blood, 400 pounds more than his own weight, for use in manufacture of tetanus antitoxin. He is one of equine blood donors kept by the biological laboratory of a Philadelphia pharmaceutical firm.

NEW CONVENTION SITE?

American Correspondent First Woman to See Pole

NORTH POLE, Sept. 22 (AP)—May Craig, Washington correspondent, was the first woman in the world to see the North Pole when she was one of a big crowd that flew over the top end of earth's axis last week.

Thirty-six persons in a United States military air transport service plane circled above the bleak ice field, floating in the 14,000-foot deep Arctic Sea, which pinpoints the geographic northern axis of the globe.

Most of the passengers were newspaper and radio reporters who have been making the first public inspection of the huge U.S. Air Force base at Thule, Greenland. The others are military officers, among them Col. Bernt Balchen, veteran aerial explorer, making his seventh flight to the Pole.

The reporters started out to take a look at an ice island on which some air force experts have been floating for months to report weather conditions at the top of the world. But the island, designated by the air force as T-3, was hidden below clouds which threatened to form dangerous ice on the plane. The Pole was only 130 miles away, so the group went on to take a look.

Things have improved since Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary reached the North Pole by dog team in 1909 — and even since Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, in 1926, became the first man to fly there. This trip today was much like the cross-country airline hop that hundreds of persons make in the U.S. every day. Even the airplane was the same, a Douglas C-54, which commercial lines call the DC-4.

Before the revolution, lawyers played an important role in Hungarian life. In every country town, there were dozens of them and all seemed to find plenty of clients to fight for in the courts.

But it is no longer worth while hiring a lawyer to fight over the possession of something which has been or is being absorbed into a state or co-operative farm.

Many lawyers in Budapest and the bigger towns were liquidated or deprived of the right to work immediately after the revolution, as "class enemies."

The only escape was to join the official "Federation of Lawyers" and become a member of one of the "lawyers' co-operatives."

Both organizations brought their members under the thumb of the party. They could accept only work which was in the interests of the regime and had little to do.

All lawyers in the co-operatives have to march in the processions wearing black trousers, open shirts and no ties—to prove their loyalty to the proletarian idea.

PRINCIPLES GONE
The basic principles of law have been abandoned and the great majority of arrests are for what are now regarded as political offenses. Shop-lifting has become sabotage of the regime, for example, since all the stores are government-owned.

Political cases are usually not defended. The state security police sentence prisoners without trial or hold in secret ones which need no lawyer for the defense.

Even in the big political trials such as those of Archbishop Groesz and Cardinal Mindszenty, the lawyers for the defense were selected by the prosecution and everything they proposed to say had to be submitted for censorship by the prosecution before they said it.

New Operation Will Allow Ulcer to Heal

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—A new operation for ulcers doesn't touch your ulcer. The ulcer is left alone, to cure itself.

Burnaby Fire Razes Three Houses While 14 Flee for Lives

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22 (CP)—With tidal-wave swiftness Sunday fire destroyed three houses, seriously damaged a fourth, and made 14 people flee for their lives.

The $30,000 fire in suburban South Burnaby left three families homeless. Destroyed were two houses, one unfinished, owned by Mrs. F. L. Myers and another house where the families of Arthur Dallamore and D'Arcy Day lived.

Mrs. Myers saw her still incomplete house and the house she was living in behind it destroyed. Part of the wall of the incomplete house crashed near the home of Joe Scott, causing fire which gutted the upper story.

A fire department official said it only took about 35 minutes to destroy the three houses.

Three firemen were injured but none needed hospital attention.

Cause of the fire is unknown but it is believed to have started in the empty house.

Civil Defense Study Set for Rural Areas

Civil defense meetings start this week for Metochin and Happy Valley residents.

Maj. Gen. C. R. Stein, provincial co-ordinator, will open a public course at Metochin school at 8 tonight. Roger Peachey, co-ordinator for the mutual aid area will officiate on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Happy Valley School.

The operation removes 75 per cent of the stomach.

It takes away most of the upper part of the stomach, which is the part that produces the acid that causes ulcers. With the cause gone, the ulcer gets well by itself, and new ulcers apparently will not get started.

The operation saves the bottom part of the stomach, with its valve that keeps food from being emptied out of the stomach too soon. The nerve regulating this valve also is saved.

Quick emptying of the stomach can cause weakness, loss of weight, heart palpitations, other troubles. This kind of distress often follows ulcer surgery that removes all of the stomach, or the bottom part with its valve.

The new technique was described today to the opening of the American College of Surgeons' clinical congress by Drs. William D. Kelley, Snorri Hallgrimsson, Richard Egdahl and Owen H. Wangenstein of the University of Minnesota Medical School.

It works well in animals, so well that they don't get new ulcers even when given daily injections of histamine, which ordinarily do cause ulcers in dogs and cats.

Forty-five humans have had the new ulcer operation and seem to be doing well, but it is still too early to tell how good the operation is, the doctors said.

The new operation is done only for ulcers of the duodenum, the first part of the intestine leading from the stomach. About eight out of nine peptic ulcers occur in the duodenum.

The technique was designed to save the stomach valve and its nerve, to cure ulcers without letting food go through the stomach too fast.

The patient is left with a small stomach, but half of them soon became able to eat nearly normal-sized meals, the surgeons said.

UP 6.4 PER CENT Two Million Major Crimes Seen for U.S. for 1952

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—The F.B.I. estimated Sunday that the United States crime toll will exceed 2,000,000 major offenses this year.

It reported a 6.4 per cent increase in crime for the first half of 1952 compared with a similar period last year.

The bureau's director, J. Edgar Hoover, said the crime estimate is conservative since the figures on which it was based include only the more serious crimes.

The F.B.I.'s semi-annual crime report, released today, estimated that 1,022,200 major crimes were committed in the U.S. during the first six months of this year.

"On the average day during this period one larceny was committed every 26 seconds, an auto theft every 2.45 minutes, an aggravated assault every 6.23 minutes and a rape approximately every half hour," the F.B.I. said.

"Every 4.6 minutes there was a crime of murder, manslaughter, rape or assault to kill."

All these crimes, except rape, increased substantially during the first six months of 1952 over the first half of 1951, the F.B.I. said.

Robberies jumped 13.8 per cent, burglaries 8.7 per cent, car thefts 8.8 per cent, other thefts 4.8, murders 3.4, negligent manslaughter—mostly traffic killing—7.7 per cent and aggravated assault cases 9.3 per cent.

Rape offenses declined one-tenth of one per cent.

Based on the number of offenses known to police for each 100,000 inhabitants, the east and south-central states led the U.S. urban crime rates for murder and non-negligent manslaughter with 6.21 per 100,000.

Fingerprint cards showed that more persons 18 years old were arrested during the first six months of this year than any other age group. In the first half of 1951, those 23 years old predominated among persons arrested.

Feather-sponsored welfare services here, is the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp at Saseenos.

It is safe to say that not one of the persons who visit the camp would be able to afford a similar holiday elsewhere.

The camp site was deeded to the Family and Children's Service by the late Fred Landsberg.

Operating costs of $2.80 per camper per day are met by fees and the Red Feather, but upkeep of cabins is undertaken by sponsor groups who provide materials and labor.

It consists of 15 cabins, a staff house donated and built last spring by trade union volunteers, two wash huts, dining hall and kitchen, recreation hall, craft hut, look-out shelter, a fine beach and large playground.

Campers are selected on the basis of need, and come from widely scattered sections of the community.

SIX-WEEK SESSION
Camp sessions begin June 15 and end Aug. 31, giving 10-day rests to senior citizens, blind persons, mothers with children, and children under 12 years of age.

The program consists of drama, handicrafts, games, swimming, hiking, sing-songs, and all other camp activities, suited, of course, to the persons attending.

The blind, for instance, have concerts, hikes, bowling, and games of skill such as ring tosses with a whistle used as a target.

The "over 65's" have boating, cards, croquet, and other pursuits which are enjoyable without asking for any great output of energy.

YOUNGSTERS SAFE
Mothers with children are able to enjoy themselves and know that the youngsters are safe and well cared for by the camp staff—a much needed rest with all the joys of having children about and none of the tribulations.

Sunshine Camp performs a vital service. Contributions to the Red Feather campaign starting Sept. 29 will help to bring to some of the underprivileged folk here 10 days of carefree holiday.

They appreciate it more than they can say.

Contributions this year will help them go back next year, and they are all anxious to do so. Whether they do or not is in the public's hands.

MAASDAM
Give your family and old friends in the homeland the thrill of a lifetime! Be home well before the holiday season!

In Tourist you'll enjoy virtual run-of-ship privileges—including the main dining salon where a variety and abundance of good food is served.

BREATHLESS BEER BOON FOR LATE NIGHTS WITH THE BOYS

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP).—A firm of British chemists announced Sunday it has produced beer with a breathless quality—the kind you can drink without any telltale fumes.

The Bradford, Yorkshire, firm said it could treat any bottled beer with a chlorophyll process which wouldn't change the taste or quality but would take away that after-drinking breath.

A London newspaper, the Sunday Dispatch, tested the beer on a panel of experts and ordinary drinkers and said the reception was enthusiastic.

Only objection came from a woman. She complained the fumeless beer was just made for errand husbands.

The chemists said one bottle of their breathless beer was all that was needed. After that, a man could sip anything for several hours.

U.S. NAVY SEEKS 'SUPERMEN'

Huskies Will Train To Handle Atomic Sub

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (UP).—The navy disclosed today it is recruiting "supermen" from the fleet to man the world's first atomic-powered submarine, the Nautilus.

Crew members already are being secretly prepared, with the most thorough training in naval history.

The Nautilus, with unheard of range, speeds and almost indefinite underwater capability, is expected to be ready in 1954.

Human endurance may be a crucial factor in its operations.

Cmdr. David B. Bell, in charge of submarine officer placement, said volunteers from among the navy's 1,500 highly-selected submarine officers are being screened for "good, rugged healthy people."

"They must be supermen, be willing to stay at sea and under water indefinitely," Bell said.

Capt. H. G. Rickover, father of the revolutionary Nautilus, said, however, he is sure navy men can meet the challenge of atomic life below the seas.

He insisted that life aboard the nuclear-powered craft, despite unprecedented patrols and underwater operations, will be no more uncomfortable than living in Washington with a case of hay fever.

"And it will be a lot easier than in a fox hole," he said.

Living conditions aboard the Nautilus, Rickover predicted will be about the same as "and certainly no worse" than on present day long range submarines.

Atomic crewmen will have all the latest possible comforts to make life bearable—including specially developed color schemes to lessen tendencies of claustrophobia in the confined quarters and reduce fatigue on watch.

But it's a safe bet the man on the bottom bunk still won't be able to turn over without getting out of bed.

"It's always going to be crowded," explained Capt. J. S. Bethea, head of the submarine desk at the bureau of ships.

Heavy shielding will guard crewmen from the rays of the craft's atomic power plant.

'Chiltern Hundreds' Next Production Of Theatre Guild

Victoria's Theatre Guild will present the British comedy "The Chiltern Hundreds," as its next production at Langham Court Theatre.

The play, which was made into a highly-entertaining movie, will be staged in mid-October. Mrs. Vera Truman is directing the production.

The story concerns life in the home of an English lord, where the butler decides to run as a Labor party candidate against his employer's son, a staunch Conservative.

Stan Wade has been assigned the important role of the butler and Basil Jaggison will portray the peer.

Others in the cast include Pat Fairweather, Pamela Scratchley, Brian Anscough, Don Ross, Mary Jessop, and Mrs. Leslie Allen.

Commonwealth Leaders Open Final Talks Before Economic Conference

LONDON, Sept. 22 (CP).—Commonwealth economic talks, widely heralded as perhaps the most important since the Ottawa conference of 1932, entered a second preparatory stage today.

Senior officials, including Canadian High Commissioner Norman Robertson, opened detailed discussions as a final prelude to the plenary sessions slated to be held starting late in November, with Commonwealth prime ministers in attendance.

The importance of the November conference appears to be emphasized by the careful preparations ministers are making. Even before today's preliminary talks got under way, draft agendas were circulated among the Commonwealth countries, a procedure usually followed directly by the plenary sessions.

The Times, in its leading editorial, says the conference must decide whether the Commonwealth should seek greater self-sufficiency by exchange restrictions, bulk trading agreements, and tariff agreements, or move toward a freer international trading system.

"It is well known, The Times adds, that Canada took exception to the first draft agenda circulated from London, chiefly because too little emphasis seemed to be placed on internal policies."

The Daily Telegraph, similarly, suggests Canada may feel less

enthusiastic about the conference than the sterling-area countries.

A difference of view between Canada and Britain on Commonwealth economic problems has been evident in some post-war conferences. Broadly, the basic Canadian view has seemed to be that Britain could do a lot more than she has done to get herself out of financial difficulties, principally by sterner deflationary measures at home.

The Times, in its leading editorial, says the conference must decide whether the Commonwealth should seek greater self-sufficiency by exchange restrictions, bulk trading agreements, and tariff agreements, or move toward a freer international trading system.

"It is well known, The Times adds, that Canada took exception to the first draft agenda circulated from London, chiefly because too little emphasis seemed to be placed on internal policies."

The Daily Telegraph, similarly, suggests Canada may feel less

enthusiastic about the conference than the sterling-area countries.

A difference of view between Canada and Britain on Commonwealth economic problems has been evident in some post-war conferences. Broadly, the basic Canadian view has seemed to be that Britain could do a lot more than she has done to get herself out of financial difficulties, principally by sterner deflationary measures at home.

Lebourdais Baby Found Dead in Fraser

QUESNEL, B.C., Sept. 22 (CP).—The body of nine-month-old Tommy Lebourdais, missing for a week with his 27-year-old mother, was found Sunday in the Fraser River near here. No trace of the mother, Mrs. Eva Lebourdais, was found, police reported.

Mrs. Lebourdais was the daughter-in-law of the late Louis Lebourdais, who represented Cariboo in the legislature.

London Wants Report Checked

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP).—The Foreign Office cabled orders today to the British Embassy in Moscow to check reports that a Russian gunboat arrested a British trawler in the White Sea fishing grounds.

The 369-ton British vessel, the Equerry, with a crew of 20, had been fishing off Murmansk, Russia's arctic circle port. The Soviets have fined three British ships for fishing in forbidden waters during the last two years.

Police Break Up Montreal Riot

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP).—Police broke up a demonstration today outside the strike-beset Canadian Vickers shipyards, arresting nine persons and sending five to first-aid stations.

Police said strikers attempted to ambush a bus-load of workers who are members of A.F.L. unions and who voted during the week-end to return.

Labor Body Applauds Stevenson

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP).—Cheering delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention roared, pounded tables and yelled approval today when Governor Adlai E. Stevenson repeated his belief that the Taft-Hartley Labor Act should be scrapped.

Board Hears Rails
Ask 17% Increase

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 (CP).—The Board of Transport Commissioners today began hearing an application by the railways for an immediate 5-per-cent general increase in freight rates.

The commissioners deferred decision on a motion by the provinces opposing the increase that the case not be heard at this time. They ordered that the hearing proceed while the provinces' deferment motion is studied.

The railways immediately made an application for an additional 1-per-cent increase in rates, bringing the total increase they are seeking to 17 per cent.

Originally the railways sought a general increase of 16 per cent which would gross them roughly $80,000,000 a year in additional revenue. They asked that 7 per cent of this be granted immediately and the other 9 per cent later.

The 16-per-cent application was made in July on the basis of increased wages and other rail costs. Later it was decided to apply for an additional 1 per cent since the 16-per-cent application was made.

The railways are asking that the new 1 per cent be tacked on to the immediate part of the application, bringing the total they are seeking immediately to 8 per cent.

The extra 1 per cent, it is estimated, would bring the railways an additional $5,000,000 in revenue.

PROJECT FOR VICTORIAForest
Closure
Likely483 Battling With Flames

For the second time within two months, British Columbia's timber-rich forests may be closed because of the fire hazard.

Thirty fires today swept across hundreds of acres of timberlands on Vancouver Island and the mainland.

Many camps have closed while others are working a short shift, holding logging operations to early morning hours.

Some districts have been without rain for days with unprecedented high temperatures. No rain is in sight.

Worst fire on Vancouver Island is at Copper Canyon operations of MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd., 24 miles north of Chemainus, where upwards of 350 men, 14 bulldozers and 24 pumps are fighting fire along a five-mile front.

About 1,000 acres have been burned over—300 acres of slash, 200 of felled and bucked timber, and 500 of standing timber—and losses included 8,000,000 feet of felled and bucked logs, three cord decks, a railway bridge and a skidder.

The fire ran wild when a slash burn went out of control over the week-end.

A second fire is raging out of control over 350 acres at the headwaters of Lens Creek, near Cowichan Lake, where 100 Forest Service men, two bulldozers, and two pumps are endeavoring to stop its spread.

Langford Ranger district, at Victoria's back door, had 14 new fires over the week-end but suppression crews managed to extinguish all but a 10-acre blaze at Mechosin, which is expected to be brought under control by tonight.

"Conditions now are almost as bad as at the height of the summer danger period," an official said. "Hunters especially should be extremely careful in the woods."

In the Vancouver Forest District, which includes Vancouver Island, there are 23 new fires, 30 in all, and a total of 483 company and Forest Service fire-fighters at work.

In the whole of the province there are 63 fires, and 541 men employed.

A Port Renfrew man was seriously injured early this morning when his car crashed at Colwood Corner.

Henry A. Wilt was reported, in only "fair" condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital, suffering from multiple injuries after his car crashed in front of the new branch of the Bank of Commerce at Colwood Corner at 4:30 a.m., R.C.M.P. reported.

The injured man was pinned behind the driver's wheel and sections of the car had to be ripped away before police were able to get him out of the vehicle.

There were no passengers in the car.

Wilt apparently was travelling toward Victoria at the time of the accident.

Investigating officers were unable to say how the crash occurred.

Pinfold, Dowell
Back SkillingsMayor's Attitude to City Manager
Termed 'Disgrace' in Statement

BY AILEEN CAMPBELL

Mayor Claude Harrison's "attitude" toward City Manager Cecil Wyatt was today labeled "a disgrace" and the means of bringing the office to a "standstill."

Prepared statements were issued by Ald. William Pinfold, chairman of city council's finance committee and Ald. Arthur Dowell, a member.

Each backed up fellow committee member Ald. Waldo Skillings, whose outburst at a finance meeting Thursday precipitated the present battle waging at city hall.

The mayor himself has declined to enter the fray.

Ald. Dowell stated no alderman could "deny the fact that there is not one senior official at the hall today who is happy and contented in the present atmosphere."

"This thing had to break sometime and all the aldermen knew it," said Ald. Dowell. "The mayor's disregard for the manager and other executives is a disgrace."

Ald. Skillings Saturday night stated the crux of the entire controversy was the mayor-manager issue.

"The lack of co-operation from the present mayor and his apparent efforts to frustrate the work of the manager by legal technicalities has brought the manager's office to a standstill," stated Ald. Pinfold.

"It was in an attempt to break this impasse that Ald. Skillings lost all patience and brought the matter out into the open last Thursday," Ald. Pinfold claimed.

Ald. Dowell contended: "It is no secret most of the aldermen have been dissatisfied for some time at the mayor's actions. I for one support Ald. Skillings in bringing this matter to a head."

"Mr. Wyatt, the city manager, came here two years ago with a good background and a wealth of experience in municipal government, but a stranger to this city."

"The former mayor and whole council co-operated with him and gave him every assistance. He built up a great respect among us all and also with the heads of the various city departments and the city employees."

"Good progress was being made until this year."

$1,500 Down Payment
On 400-Unit Scheme

Close to 550 new houses in two projects totaling more than $5,000,000 will be built in Victoria, it was learned today.

The houses will be erected in the Burnside-Tillikum area. Both projects are private ventures.

One—about 138 houses to cost a total of more than $1,250,000—is now well underway.

The second project has an objective of 400 units at a total of more than $4,000,000. Construction will start immediately in the Burnside-Tillikum-Carey-Interurban Road area.

About 156 acres are involved in this project, which will be handled by James Lambie and Gordon Rolston, local contractors, it is learned.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation have approved the loans for the first four of the 400 houses. Plans call for completion of six before Christmas.

These will be opened to public inspection and the remainder of the houses will be built as sold, it is understood.

The houses are being planned to sell for about $10,000 on a $1,500 down basis and payments of approximately $45 a month for 30 years.

A shopping centre is also in the plans, it is believed. A sewerage system will be installed.

The second project in the Burnside district involves 138 lots, over 100 of which have been sold by Jack Henson Jr., Victoria contractor.

He could not say how many of the houses are completed, but stated they were being built by a number of private contractors. Prices will range from $7,000 to $10,000, he said.

Sewerage will also be installed.

Call The Times
For Election
Results in N.B.

FREDERICTON, Sept. 22 (CP).

The battle of words in the New Brunswick election campaign gave way today to the battle of ballots.

Approximately 282,800 residents were eligible to vote between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. A.D.T. (5 a.m. and 3 p.m. P.D.T.).

First returns from the New Brunswick election are expected to be known in Victoria soon after 4 p.m. Readers are invited to phone the Times, B 3131, for results.

On their decision depended the fate of Premier John B. McNair's Liberal government and the hopes of Progressive Conservatives led by H. J. Flemming.

UPPER BURNSIDE LOCATION

Royal Portage Parks Ask
Saanich Site Be Rezoned

Royal Portage Parks Ltd., the company thwarted in its attempt to build a $12,000,000 recreation area on Portage Inlet, is now seeking permission to construct a $3,500,000 race track and exhibition buildings at the top end of Burnside Road in Saanich.

It was learned today the firm is planning to apply to Saanich Council for re-zoning of 300 acres in the general vicinity of the intersection of Burnside and Prospect Lake Roads.

Queried on the issue today, Reeve Joseph W. Casey said he expected the re-zoning application to be presented either to tonight's council meeting or next Monday.

Company officials, meanwhile, are silent on the matter, but it is understood they are meeting this afternoon to discuss the application for re-zoning.

"Who is behind the proposal?" This is the same point which harmed the proposal for a recreation area in the Portage Inlet area. It is believed officials will soon declare the names of their financial backers.

The company believes the Burnside Road site for the race track and exhibition buildings will create little objection because it is sparsely populated. Several properties are involved.

Edwin Boyd
Changes Plea
To GuiltySurprise Move at Today's Hearing

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (BUP)

Edwin Alonzo Boyd pleaded guilty to all the charges against him today when he went on trial in Toronto on counts ranging from armed bank robbery to breaking jail.

Boyd pleaded innocent when he was arraigned on the four counts Thursday. But his counsel, Frank McMahon, told Judge Robert Forsyth when the trial opened this morning that the accused bank robber wished to change his plea.

Boyd then rose in the dock and when asked how he pleaded said "guilty" in firm tones to all four charges.

The charges were of breaking out of Don Jail on November 4, 1951; of escaping from the jail the same date; stealing a car on February 28, 1952, and armed robbery at a Bank of Montreal branch in Toronto on March 4, 1952. The robbery netted about $25,000.

Joseph Jackson and Allister Gibson, also charged with the bank robbery, did not change their pleas of innocent. Nor did Norman Boyd, charged with harboring his brother, Edwin, and receiving stolen money.

After Boyd changed his plea the court proceeded with picking a jury to try the other three.

Tanks Smash
Enemy Back

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 22 (UP).

United Nations troops supported by tanks smashed back today at North Korean Communists who overwhelmed them and pushed them off a towering peak on the eastern front.

Second division troops, who captured "Old Baldy" in the west Sunday, worked through the night to strengthen their positions, while Red Chinese artillery and mortars took a rest.
